SEC. DULLES WARNS:

War Danger Still Persists

... Ike Writes To Khrushchev

Washington (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Thursday the world faces grave danger of war unless Russia agrees the United Nations should be allowed to act against indirect aggression in the Middle East.

At the same time, Dulles pledged the United States would withdraw its troops from Lebanon whenever it is asked to do so by a duly constituted Lebanese government.

President Eisenhower's letter replying to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's latest summit suggestions will be delivered in Moscow Friday.

At a news conference, Dulles said any emergency summit talks between President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and others should concentrate on the problem of indirect aggression—by which he meant Communist subversion of existing regimes.

False Soviet Charge

Dulles said the other chief value of a summit parley would be to expose what he called the falseness of Khrushchev's charge that U. S.-British troop landings have imperiled Middle East peace.

It will be impossible, he said, to restore stability as long as Middle East rulers live under a threat of assassination and murder at the hands of fanatic foes.

"If the practices of indirect aggression as they are being developed at the present time are allowed to persist in the world," Dulles said, "and if no way is found to check that, then I believe the world is indeed in grave danger of war."

"I believe that that can be made apparent... also I believe that if the Soviet Union does not want a war they will almost have to agree that these practices should be brought under some kind of control by the United Nations."

Dulles suggested 2 possible U.N. moves: (1) Keeping a constant check on inflammatory radio broadcasts beamed into the area, calling world attention to any incitement to violence, and (2) setting up a U.N. commission to throw a mantle of international protection against any country imminently threatened.

Barrage Of Questions

Meeting with newsmen for the first time in a month, Dulles faced a barrage of questions mainly about arrangements for a summit parley. In his replies Dulles:

1. Backed British Prime Minister Macmillan's proposal that a summit meeting begin about Aug. 12 within the framework of the 11-member U.N. security council.

2. Agreed to New York or some European city as a site. He ruled out Moscow because of what he called outrageous demonstrations against the U.S. Embassy there 2 weeks ago.

3. Turned a cold shoulder to Khrushchev's demand that India's Prime Minister Nehru be included as a participant. Dulles said Jordan and Lebanon, both directly involved in the Middle East crisis, should be represented. But he said the addition of Nehru might cause a flood of demands for participation from other countries, making the conference unmanageable.

4. Indicated the United States probably will recognize the revolutionary government of Iraq within a few days.

5. Favored going ahead with an emergency Middle East parley even if French Premier de Gaulle boycotts it. France would be represented, nevertheless, presumably by her foreign minister.

Medical Panel Saves $123,000

New Plan Allowed 50% Slash In County Share Of 58-59 Costs

By Don Walton

New medical panel services for county indigent patients are credited with saving Lancaster County some $123,000 the past fiscal year.

County costs for the program for the fiscal year just ended totaled $212,000 compared to $335,000 for the preceding fiscal year, Dr. George Underwood, city-county Health Department director, reported to a Lancaster County Medical Society committee Thursday night.

And the new panel system was only in effect for the last 6 months of the just-completed fiscal year, Dr. Underwood pointed out.

Next year's fiscal budget for the program was expected to top $400,000, Dr. Underwood reported. It will now be set at $200,000, he said, a reduction of 50%.

At the same time, Dr. Underwood and Medical Society committee members reported that new panel services have been "very well received" and that complaints have been few. None of the committee members have received complaints since the program was initiated, they said.

Hospital Stay Cut

Long hospitalization was listed as the chief cost of the old system which has been reduced by the new. The average hospitalized county welfare patient now stays 8 days compared to 18 days per patient under the old system, Dr. Underwood said.

Boy Held In Beating

Police are holding a 15-year-old boy at the County Detention Home in connection with the assault of another 15-year-old late Wednesday. The youth lost 2 teeth, police said, when the assailant slugged him in the stomach and mouth. The injured boy told police the beating occurred near 17th and Washington while he was walking with a girl friend.

3 NEBRASKANS KILLED AS AUTO CRUSHED ON HIGHWAY 77

Lincoln Star Special

Beatrice, Neb.—Three Nebraskans were killed and 9 persons were hospitalized Thursday when a Continental Trailways bus and a car collided 10 miles south of Beatrice on Highway 77.

The dead were identified by Beatrice Lutheran Hospital officials as:

James W. Rahe, 19, Plymouth.

Richard Lee Wolf, 22, Diller.

Laramie "Larry" Novotny, 21, Diller.

The 3 dead were all riding in the car. Another passenger in the car was Darwin Novotny, a cousin of Laramie Novotny, who suffered a broken leg and back and other injuries but was not listed as critical.

The accident occurred at a junction of the Hwy. 77 detour and a gravel road.

The bus was southbound on the highway and the auto apparently came from the east into the path of the bus, Sheriff Ned Maxwell said.

The car was crushed between the bus and an embankment. A wrecker was required to lift the bus from the auto.

The dead were apparently riding in the auto, the sheriff said.

The bus driver was in shock and unable to give a coherent story of the accident, the sheriff said.

Rahe was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rahe of Plymouth. Wolf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Wolf, reside at Diller.

Novotny was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Novotny, also of Diller. Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. John Austin of Lincoln, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bures of Diller.

Sheriff Maxwell said the car was registered to and driven by Wolf, who was formerly of Diller and now of Davenport.

Those hospitalized at Beatrice included:

Nebraska

Mrs. Pearl Porter, 1340 No. 24th, Lincoln.

Eva Bond of Avoca.

Mrs. Kenneth Collins of Rt. 4, Beatrice.

Darwin Novotny of Diller.

Out-Of-State

Mrs. A. C. Jones, Junction City, Kan.

Bernard Bradde, Waterville, Kan., driver of the bus.

Rita Pijut and daughter LeDon Rector, both of Waltonville, Ill.

Year In Jail

Conviction for a contempt of Congress carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Earlier in the day Rep. Peter F. Mack (D-Ill.) suggested that Republicans on the committee were trying to delay action on the subcommittee's recommendation. But chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said the members only wanted to be fully informed before they voted.

He added that the subcommittee's inquiry into the relations between Goldfine and Adams, President Eisenhower's chief White House aide, had resulted in a lengthy record and that members had a lot of questions to ask about it.

Harris said the motion to cite Goldfine was made by Rep. John L. Williams (D-Miss.) and concurred in by 19 other members of the committee present. Three members were absent.

23 Questions

The subcommittee recommended that Goldfine, a wealthy textile manufacturer, be cited for contempt for his refusal to answer 23 questions about financial transactions with real estate companies he controls. Goldfine contended the questions were not relevant to the inquiry.

His relations with Adams were probed after it was disclosed that he had bestowed gifts and other expensive favors on the presidential aide. Both men denied that Goldfine received in return preferential treatment from government agencies.

Loup Seeks Loan To Build Highline

Power District Opposes Rurals For Transmission Facility

By Don Walton

Another bombshell exploded upon Nebraska's confused public power battlefield Thursday.

The Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, which only 2 weeks ago voted to dissolve its standing as a member of the Nebraska Public Power System, has filed application with the Rural Electrification Assn., for a $4,360,000 loan to build a 230,000 kilovolt line from the Nebraska-South Dakota border to Columbus.

Loup Manager Ed Kelly confirmed Thursday that the application has been made.

Thus, the power district transformed its opposition to building of the line by the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Co-Operative into a direct attempt to build the transmission line from Ft. Randall Dam in South Dakota to Tameca Junction near Seward.

Loup Kelly said, would save $1 million in construction costs by constructing the line to Columbus instead of southward to Tamora.

"We can't justify building to Tamora at this time," Kelly said. "It would eventually need to be built to near Lincoln. But, we need to wait for 2 or 3 years until Missouri River power is more stable."

Loup would attempt to get the Bureau of Reclamation to build the 5-mile stretch from the border to the Ft. Randall switchyard in South Dakota, he said.

"We are confident" the Bureau would build that unit, Kelly said, and thus save

LEWIS B. TOBIN

L. B. Tobin Dies; Was Star Official

General Manager Of Paper 20 Years

Lincoln Star Special

So. Laguna, Calif. — Lewis B. Tobin, 84, former general manager of The Lincoln Star, died Thursday here after an illness.

Services are pending, but will be held at So. Laguna. Burial will be at Santa Ana, Calif.

He was general manager of The Star for 20 years during the time H. E. Gooch was publisher. Mr. Tobin left the post in 1930.

In 1931 he moved to Omaha, where he was publisher of the Omaha Bee News until 1936. Following this he moved to Flintridge, Calif.

Born in Macomb, Ill., he came to Lincoln in 1883 and was active in civic and community affairs.

Prior to his work at The Star, he had been manager of the Lincoln Postal Telegraph office.

He was a charter member of the Lincoln Rotary Club, a director of Gooch Milling Co., a vice president of the Lincoln Country Club and a member of the University Club.

Survivors include his wife, Ida E.; son, Vincent B. of Bridge, Ida.; brothers George and Robert of Lincoln; sister, Mrs. Onnie Hughes of Lincoln; nephew Dewey "Pete" Curtis of Lincoln and 2 grandsons.

Terry Blasts Laws On Listing Of Intangibles

... Cites Howard Wilson Estate

By Betty Person

Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff declared anew Thursday that Nebraska's tax laws should be changed so that discovery of omitted intangible property which comes to light through estate inventories would be penalized at the tangible rate rather than the intangible rate.

He made the comment after learning from Lancaster County officials that the estate of the late Howard S. Wilson of Lincoln owes taxes and penalties totaling $8,392.58 on several hundred thousand dollars worth of cash, stocks and bonds not reported in the years 1955, 1956 and 1957.

"Under certain conditions," Carpenter said, "had these omissions been discovered while Mr. Wilson was living, the tax penalties at the tangible rate would have amounted to $98,372.59."

The Scottsbluff senator, chairman of the Legislative Tax Investigation Committee, noted that Nebraska laws once required that such property should be taxed at the tangible rate when it was omitted, but said the law was changed several years ago.

"Someone Got Law Changed"

"Some senator who was an attorney handling an estate where the deceased had omitted large amounts of intangible property, managed to get the law changed so the penalty was the much lower intangible rate," Carpenter said.

Under present Nebraska laws, after an estate inventory has been filed, the county assessor is required to check for omission of any property, tangible or intangible, from the tax returns of the deceased within the 3 taxable years prior to the year the deceased died.

If omissions are found, the property is to be taxed at the rate it would have been taxed if reported, plus charging 7% per annum interest from the date the tax would have been due, plus a penalty of 10% of the amount due on tangible property, and a 50% penalty of the amount due on intangibles.

If the county assessor finds property omitted from the tax return of a living person, the same penalties are applied.

County Board Favors Raises--Amount In Doubt

7 Hours Of Discussion Results In No Decision

By Del Harding

The Lancaster County Board agreed Thursday that most county employes should receive salary raises, but after 7 hours of discussion the Commissioners remained undecided as to just how much.

The 3 Commissioners did indicate they would approve monthly increases averaging from $10 to $15 for most office employes, but could not agree on how much to boost the salaries of the 10 deputies of the respective office heads. The Board will discuss the matter further Monday afternoon, and is expected to take definite action at that time.

The Commissioners were nearly agreed on what to pay the chief deputies and called in the elected office heads for their views. The Commissioners told the office heads they were considering salary raises for the chief deputies in line with the salary boosts given the office heads themselves last winter, but were not sure whether to increase salaries of the other office workers.

Raises For All Asked

But the office heads, led by County Judge Herbert A. Ronin, strongly expressed the belief that all the employes should receive some raise—even if it meant a cut in the amount of the increases of the chief deputies.

The Board then indicated it would go along with the office heads, and increase nearly all salaries, with a corresponding decrease in chief deputies' salary increases.

Despite any increase Board Chairman Russell Brehm said he was still sure the county mill levy of 5.6 will be reduced. The levy is expected to drop to about 5.1, due to an increased county valuation and a considerable saving last year on county welfare medical costs.

Budget Next Week

The Board will adopt the 1958-59 fiscal year budget at its weekly meeting next Tuesday, but the exact mill levy figure will probably not be known until later next week. This must await official notification of the county's 1958 assessed valuation from the State Board of Equalization.

Brehm and fellow Commissioners Del Lienemann and Rollin Bailey found they disagreed most as to what the salaries of the 3 deputy county attorneys should be. County Atty. Elmer Sheele has asked $8,900 for his chief deputy, Dale Fahrbruch, $8,400 for deputy Paul Douglas and $6,500 for deputy Arthur Curtiss.

Fahrbruch now receives $6,300, Douglas $5,460 and Curtiss $5,400.

$7,900 For Fahrbruch

Although the Board took no definite action, it appeared that Fahrbruch would be increased only to $7,900 at the most with corresponding decreases in the other requested increases.

Lienemann proposed $7,200 for Fahrbruch, $6,160 for Douglas and $5,900 for Curtiss. Bailey said he believed $7,900 for Fahrbruch, $7,000 for Douglas and $6,000 for Curtiss would be more proper. Brehm did not express himself.

Lienemann also proposed $5,900 for Chief Dep. Sheriff Les Hasson and Chief Dep. Engineer George Freeman, both of whom now receive $5,400.

Lienemann also suggested $500 annual raises for the other deputies, who now receive $4,900. They are Charles Currie (treasurer's office), W. W. Schneider (assessor's office), Otis Nelson (District Court Clerk's office), Tyna Baer (County Clerk's office), and Kenneth Ferguson (Register of Deeds' office).

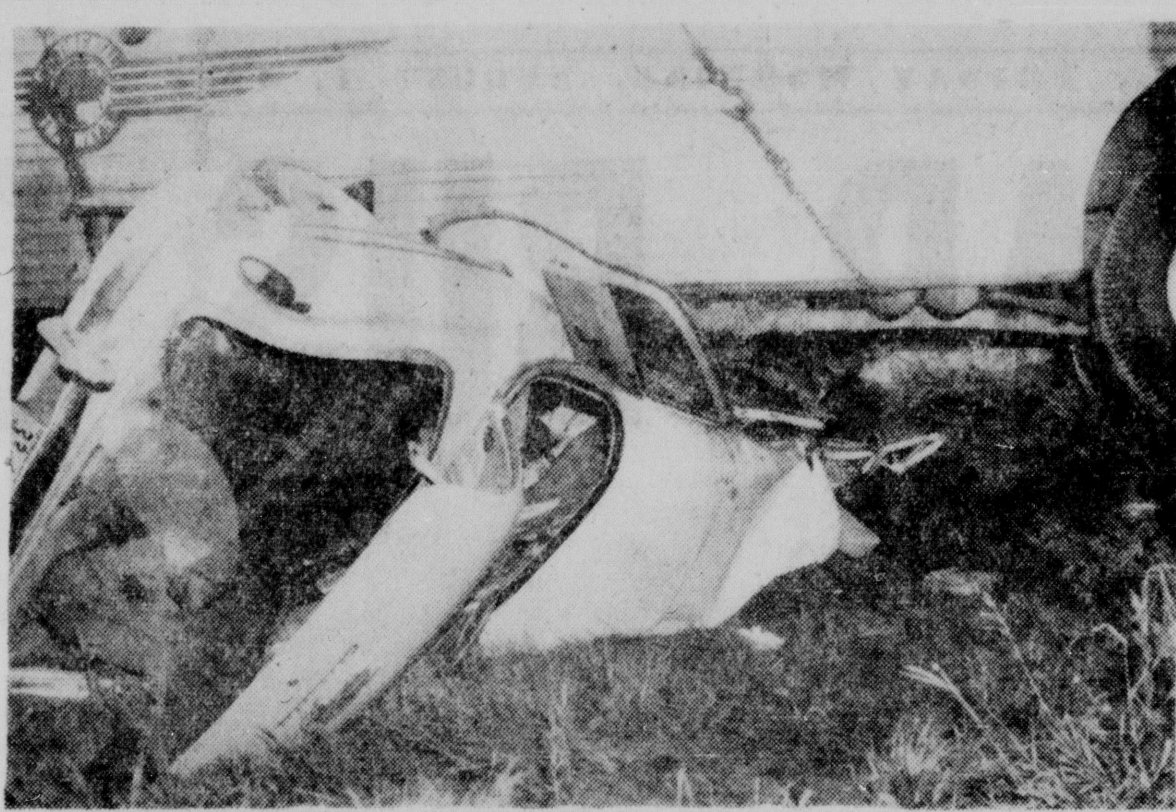

Bailey indicated he would go along with these figures, but Brehm again did not express himself.

All these proposed $500 increases for the deputies are about $500 less than what the Commissioners appeared to favor before their talk with the office heads, which apparently swung their sentiments towards raises for nearly all the employes.

The Board did appear in agreement on Brehm's proposal to add 4 deputies to the sheriff's staff to bring the county night patrol to 3 cars with 2 deputies in each. It appears certain Karnopp will get his extra deputies.

Man Who Hid In Theater Wall Pleads Guilty To Burglary

A 22-year-old Lincoln man who pleaded guilty Thursday in County Court to a burglary charge told police he eluded them by hiding in the wall of the women's rest room at the Lincoln Theater as they searched for him Monday night.

Larry McGuire of 833 G told police he was not seen by the officers who searched the theater after a night watchman had found an attempt had been made to pry open the door to the manager's office. But in his hurried flight into the hole in the wall he abandoned some tools he had brought with him.

Police found the tools and traced them to a local store, where they found McGuire had charged the tools to his parent's account the day before. A pickup was then put out for him.

Police said the 15 by 18 inch hole was in a wall being remodeled. They said the youth was a former employee of the theater and as such was familiar with its layout.

McGuire said he stayed in his hiding place until after the movie started the next day, when he crawled out unnoticed. He was arrested in Maryville, Mo., Wednesday after Lincoln police informed Missouri lawmen they believed the youth was en route to the home of a relative there.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin bound McGuire over to District Court for sentencing and set his appearance bond at $2,000.

Deaths Hit All-Time High In Nebraska During 1957

A record number of deaths occurred in Nebraska in 1957.

A total of 13,797 people died last year—636 more than in 1956 to account for the greatest number of deaths recorded in any year since the state established its Bureau of Vital Statistics in 1904.

Total deaths in Lincoln for 1957 were 1,228 compared to 1,118 in 1956 and 1,091 in 1955. The greatest single cause of the deaths was heart disease which took the lives of 37.4% of all Nebraskans dying during the past year. The second greatest single cause of deaths, cancer, accounted for 16.4 of the mortalities.

0.2% Increase

However, because of the increase in the estimated population, the death rate showed an overall increase of 0.2% over 1956.

Deaths due to heart disease increased by 327 last year reaching a total of 5,156. Although still the number 2 killer cancer took 29 less lives in 1957 than the year before. In 1957 a total of 2,262 deaths was attributed to cancer.

A total of 33,161 births was recorded last year and of this number, 16,952 were male babies and 16,209 were female.

There were 31,723 white children born; 1,041 Negro; 201 Indian; 35 Chinese and Japanese, and 161 Mexican.

2 Births To 1 Death

One birth occurred every 15.8 minutes and one death every 38.09 minutes, according to the 1957 report of the Bureau of Vital Statistics.

Both the number of marriages and divorces were fewer than in the preceding year. The 10,702 marriages were 662 less than in 1956, and the 2,130 divorces were 154 less than in the previous year. There were 756 illegitimate births recorded in the state in 1957, with Omaha recording the largest number, 381. Next in line came Lincoln with 63, followed by North Platte with 14.

London And Paris Still Differ

... On Summit Meeting

London (AP)—Britain and France sent divergent plans for a Mideast summit meeting to Premier Khrushchev Thursday, in effect returning the ball to him. The 2 allies disagreed on a date and auspices for such a meeting.

Macmillan wants a special summit session of the U.N. Security Council to open Aug. 12—in New York, or Geneva or elsewhere. He is asking U.N. headquarters in New York to act at once to arrange the meeting and said he is willing to attend.

De Gaulle proposed that the conference open in Geneva Aug. 18. He objected again to summit talks within the U.N. framework. Instead he accepted the original Soviet proposal for a meeting of the Big 4 powers plus India, with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld sitting in.

IT WOULD PLEASE BEN!

Benjamin Franklin who established both the postal system and an American attitude toward thrift, would have been somewhat pleased no doubt, Thursday, to see his lessons of thrift applied even though it was at the expense of his other brainchild.

Lincolmites apparently know the value of a penny.

The entire force of 30 post office employees worked all night Thursday to handle the surge in mail volume brought about by the postal hike that went into effect Friday morning. Ordinarily, postal authorities said, 15 to 20 men are required to handle the night work.

Cancellations Thursday stood at 115,000 which was 15,000 to 20,000 above normal, authorities said. No figures were available on the metered mail but it was estimated to have been 10 to 15% heavier than the increase in stamped mail.

Building Up $1.4 Million This Year

July 2nd Highest Month So Far

By Virgil Falloon
Lincoln's building record of $8,968,966 through July is running $1,486,882 ahead of last year.

July building permits, the second largest month so far this year, hit $1,652,131. May totalled $3,000,799.

Building Inspector E. A. Vorhees' office issued permits for 70 single-family residences totalling $854,431 and 5 duplexes totalling $79,728 in July.

Other major construction starts included Holy Trinity Episcopal Church at 6001 A, $360,000; the 17th and Van Dorn fire station, $55,790, and a new Safeway store at 1535 No. 27th, $150,000.

Residences Lagging

While the construction picture is up so far this year, new residential construction is lagging slightly behind last year.

Residential starts through July total 368 as compared with 401 at this time in 1957.

However, after a slow start this year, new residential construction for June and July is ahead of these months last year. The 1957 total was 702.

Buildings To Make Way For Parking

... Near Auditorium

Two houses, built before the turn of the century, and a newer 2-story apartment house are being razed at 16th and L to make way for the construction of a 66-car parking lot, expected to be open for business about October 1.

The lot will be open for public use, although it will probably be used mostly by state house and auditorium visitors because of its convenient location.

The parking facility is being constructed by the New Masonic Temple Assn., of which Wayne Reese is president.

The houses to be torn down are located at 1607 and 1617 L. The apartment building is at 412 So. 16th. Razing work is expected to be completed by the 15th of August, according to Reese, and the lot should be open for business around October 1.

The Temple Assn., which purchased the property shortly before their new Temple was built in 1934, is made up of 3 York Rite bodies, 3 Masonic Lodges and the Eastern Star. The group occupies the New Masonic Temple at the southeast corner of 17th and L. Sts.

AUGUST IS DRIEST MONTH—THUS FAR

August may not continue July's wet ways—if the first day is any indication.

The Weather Bureau's outlook for Friday contained no mention of precipitation—a rare occurrence in recent weeks.

Temperatures, the forecasters said, will remain in the 80-degree range.

Nebraska had a very consistent temperature picture Thursday. All stations reported highs between Sidney's 85 and Omaha's 82. Lincoln's top was 83 and the low 67.

Mist Final Goodbye Of Wettest July

The capital city's wettest July in the local Weather Bureau's record books passed its 11.40 inches into history Thursday with an early morning mist to remind Lincolmites of its damp past.

During the month 12 days passed without rain. Of those 7 occurred in the last 11 days. The longest dry spells were two 3-day periods without rain, the 5th through 7th and the 21st through 23rd.

The longest period of consecutive days of rain (6) occurred from the 15th through the 20th. There were 2 periods of 4 days each during which it rained.

Mother Gets Probation In Mails Case

Omaha (AP)—Mrs. Marion Rosacker, 20-year-old Wayne, Neb. mother of 2 was placed on probation for 3 years Thursday after she pleaded no defense to 6 counts of using the mails to defraud.

The government alleged that she used the mails in a shoplifting swindle that netted her more than $1,000 in 5 months.

The government charged she stole articles from department stores in Omaha, Lincoln and Sioux City, Ia., and had false box numbers in Norfolk and Sioux City under other names. Assistant District Attorney Robert Berkshire said once articles had been stolen from stores she sent them back, claiming they had been given her as gifts. He said a refund then was sent by the store.

Flash Floods Hit KC

6 1/2-Inch Rainfall Bogs Down Suburbs

Kansas City (AP)—Flash flooding from overnight rains measuring up to 6 1/2 inches bogged down scattered sections of Kansas and Missouri Thursday, including suburban Kansas City.

Property damage ran into millions of dollars, railroad and highway travel was delayed or stopped, but no lives were reported lost.

Hard-hit for the second time in a month was Atchison, Kan., a city of 13,000 located 50 miles north of Kansas City. It suffered an estimated 16 million dollars damage 3 weeks ago from a flood which caused 3 drownings.

Wednesday night's flood on White Clay Creek at Atchison receded Thursday after reaching a depth of 4 feet in the business district.

Levels Off

The Blue River in Kansas City's south and eastern suburbs crested at 38 feet above flood stage, then leveled off. Nearby industries appeared safe from flooding, barring further heavy rains. More rain was forecast, however.

Throughout greater Kansas City, firemen and volunteers manned rescue boats to evacuate stranded motorists and families. One suburban business district, at Merriam, Kan., was under 4 feet of water.

Parts of Frankfort, a north-east Kansas town of 1,300, were inundated by the Black Vermillion River, reported at 23 1/2 feet, 4 1/2 feet over bank-full.

The Delaware River at Valley Falls, Kan., in the same vicinity, was due to crest at 27 feet, 5 feet above flood stage. At Easton, Kan., National Guardsmen were on duty as a crest on Big Stranger Creek approached. Leavenworth Kan., 12 miles southeast of Easton, was flooded briefly by Five Mile Creek.

4-Year-Old Heroine

Berlin (AP)—Christine Nitzsche, 4, has been awarded a lifesaving medal by East German authorities. The little girl rescued her 2-year-old sister Rosemarie from drowning last January. Rosemarie fell through thin ice on a pond. Christine crawled to the hole and fished her out.

53 Hurt As Milwaukee Road Passenger Train Derails

... 11 Cars Jump Track At 90 MPH

Milwaukee (AP) — Eleven cars of the sleek Milwaukee Road Olympian Hiwatha, carrying many of its 497 passengers to vacations, derailed while traveling at 90 miles an hour. Fifty-three persons were injured, but there were no deaths.

Six cars of the deluxe service train left the rails in farm country in the suburb of Oak Creek in southern Milwaukee County. The remaining cars traveled another 300 yards before 5 more cars left the tracks. The 4-unit diesel engine and 7 other cars remained on the rails. None of the cars overturned.

Fifteen ambulances from a dozen communities carried the injured to 4 hospitals. An uncounted number of fire, police and rescue vehicles swarmed to the scene. A small fire in one car was extinguished quickly.

En route from Chicago to Seattle, Wash., the train passengers included Leo T. Crowley, Chicago, chairman of the Milwaukee Road board of directors. He was not injured and boarded another train without comment.

Vacation

Another passenger was H. W. Prentice, president of the Armstrong Cork Corp., of Lancaster, Pa. On the way to a vacation in Montana, Prentice was thrown to the floor but not injured.

"They're calling me a hero," said Alex Sawczya of Chicago who was in the dining car with his wife, "but I really wanted to get out myself."

Other passengers said he broke a window in the car as an escape hatch, and although cut and bruised, stayed in the car to help others crawl outside before leaving himself. His injuries were minor.

Sawczya described the wreck as "the squeal of brakes, a series of rolling motions and then a big crash."

'Screeching'

A motorist, Richard Figlesthaler of rural Caledonia, who saw the crash from a nearby highway said, "I heard the screeching of steel, looked down the tracks and saw the train enveloped in a cloud of dust."

The derailed cars included a diner, 2 domed observation cars, and 8 coaches. The remaining cars and the engine went on to Milwaukee where 6 other coaches were added and the uninjured continued on their journeys.

Railroad officials said the cause was undetermined, and there was no estimate of the damage. Service was rerouted on an adjoining track. Wreckers were sent from Chicago and Milwaukee, but line officials were unable to say when the wreckage would be cleared and the 1,000 feet of torn-up track replaced.

Mrs. Schmidt To Direct Schools' Adult Education

Mrs. Madeline W. Schmidt of 2747 Royal Court has been named by the Lincoln School Board to fill the position of adult education director for the Lincoln Public Schools. Miss Ona Wagner, former director, retired June 30.

Mrs. Schmidt has worked for the University of Nebraska since Mrs. Schmidt 1932 when she graduated from that institution with a bachelor's degree. Since 1955 she has been a member of the university library staff.

New Dance

London (UPI)—The London Mirror described a new dance, the "Summit Crawl," accompanied by appropriate drawings of U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. The description:

"First they lift their right and left feet. The step is a wobbling walk. They stop and face each other, their hips swinging. They do this for 5 beats with hardly any movement of the feet. Then they turn, take a few steps forward and backward before they swirl round and round. They look fondly into each other's eyes and shout 'crawl!'"

Loup another estimated $100,000 in costs.

Meanwhile, it was revealed that Loup and G & T executive committees would probably meet next week in secret session to iron out differences between the conflicting agencies.

Loup President Zack B. Howell met last Wednesday with G & T directors to discuss difficulties. Loup's application to build the transmission line was talked over at the meeting, one official said. Thus, the public power squabble in Nebraska broadened its scope, with all agencies apparently "going their own way."

While Loup and G & T discuss differences next week, Consumers Public Power District and the Nebraska Public Power System will likely continue their negotiations over conflicting interests.

Until differences are settled, the key 230,000 kilovolt transmission line will remain unbuilt.

This, G & T officials have estimated, will cost Nebraskans an extra $1¼ million a year in electricity payments. G & T, Manager A. L. Chantry of West Point told The Star, is ready to begin construction of the line within 30 days after it receives the final go-ahead.

Composed of 22 rural power districts, G & T "will be ready in a few days" to embark on "a new program" aimed at building the line, Chantry said. He would not reveal details of the plan. However, he said G & T

"certainly plans to do what the REA's suggested."

The Nebraska Rural Electric Assn. executive committee earlier this week urged the G & T to continue negotiations aimed at building the transmission line.

The NREA also asked that the G & T take over the transmission properties of Loup if Loup withdraws to the generating business only as is its announced intent. Loup defined its future position as one of confining its activities to irrigation, continuing to produce electric power as a wholesale supplier to the state's public power network.

Loup, Kelly said, filed the first of this week with REA and is now in the process of sending in supporting data with the application expected to be final in form by the middle of next week.

G & T filed application Sept. 30, 1957 to build the line 165.4 miles from Ft. Randall to Tamora Junction. Loup proposes to construct the facility some 125 miles.

The reduced length of the line, he said, will be "sufficient to handle the load for 2 or 3 years." Loup believes, he pointed out, that the load situation "as it develops" should determine how far the line should go after that.

"The main difference of opinion," he said, "between G & T and us is how extensive the line needs to be. The load has not developed this year as expected."

"We ought to be cautious," Kelly said. "We hesitate on building to Tamora because there is a possibility that the load will not develop as indicated."

Lincoln Still Could Get Ag Hall Of Fame

Lincoln is still in the running as a possible site for a new Agriculture Hall of Fame headquarters to be chosen Nov. 24 by the project's board of governors.

The executive committee, meeting in Kansas City, Mo., has recommended that the Hall of Fame be located in the Midwest, according to an Associated Press story.

The committee defined "Midwest" as the area from Ohio to Kansas and Missouri to Minnesota.

Omaha has also been suggested as a possible site.

At the meeting, the committee mentioned a possible site on the 135-acre O. H. Kelly farm near Minneapolis, homestead of the founder of the National Grange.

Ed Hoyt, Nebraska agriculture director, is a member of the 5-member executive committee. James Wall of Waverly, president of the National Vocational Agricultural Teachers Assn., is on the 100-member Board of Governors, and Charles Marshall of Lincoln, Nebraska Farm Bureau president, is secretary of the board.

Disappearing Act

By ARTHUR EDSON

(Editorial Note: Today's column by Mr. Edson, feature writer for the Associated Press, substitutes for Mr. Dobler who is on a brief vacation.)

WASHINGTON — The worst thing about presidential news conferences is that, when the going gets hot, they tend to evaporate. President Eisenhower generally has his conferences on a Wednesday morning. He didn't hold one again this week and the reasons given were (1) an appointment with Italy's Prime Minister Amintore Fanfani, and (2) the continuing crisis in the Middle East.

This makes four weeks since Eisenhower has met with reporters, and in some ways it's a different world from the one under discussion at the last meeting. Take the day of the last conference, July 2. Bernard Goldfine, the Boston textile man who likes to give things to important people, was just starting his testimony before a House committee. Even though Goldfine did a lot of talking in the witness chair, and even though his press agents kept panting, many questions remained unanswered about his dealings with Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's No. 1 White House assistant.

Since Adams wasn't answering any questions about the case, the only recourse was Eisenhower, and he wasn't holding any news conferences.

You might say this problem was solved in the same way the little boy quit fretting about his sore finger. He forgot all about it because in the meantime he had fallen down and broken a leg.

And look at what has happened this last eventful month. Iraq, Lebanon. The proposal for a summit conference. The international pot steadily boiling. What a passel of questions come to mind. About getting the troops out of Lebanon. About the incredible muddle the summit conference appears to be in. About criticism, especially from abroad, that Eisenhower isn't physically fit for a hard and tough meeting.

Well, it's up to each President to decide when and whether he wishes to hold a news conference, and each appears to have his own theories on how to proceed.

Harry Truman enjoyed meeting the press, and Franklin D. Roosevelt not only enjoyed it but also had the knack of squeezing the most out of his side of the story.

Harding, Coolidge and Hoover wanted the questions written out in advance. As the depression deepened, Hoover abandoned conferences altogether.

Wilson, who held the first modern news conference 45 years ago, also dropped them after World War I started, partly because he feared he might pull a diplomatic blunder. Eisenhower frequently has said he likes news conferences, that they make him brush up on his homework so that he'll be sure to know the answers, that they give him an insight into what people are thinking. But of late he seems to have lost some of his enthusiasm for them. The July 2nd conference is the only one he has held this summer. And he held only one in June and only two in May.

Strangely, the explanation may be simple. The room where the news conferences are held is not air-conditioned, and in hot, muggy weather, it can be stifling.

It may be the hot weather, as well as the hot issues, that is causing the news conferences to evaporate.

DREW PEARSON

Ike Finds Near East Swampy Place

WASHINGTON — Immediately after President Eisenhower made the momentous decision to land American troops in Lebanon, several events took place which led to the present frantic attempts to reverse his position and evacuate our troops.

One was the jitteriness of President Chamoun of Lebanon. After asking for American aid, he subsequently demanded that U.S. troops keep out of the trouble zone and fire no shots against Lebanese rebels. Later, when U.S. trouble shooter Ambassador Robert Murphy arrived, he found Chamoun jumpy, irrational, and at times incoherent. Murphy reported that Chamoun, a cardiac patient, had taken up smoking against the advice of his doctors. Murphy has urged Chamoun to leave Lebanon and take asylum in the United States.

Another discouraging development was the refusal of Saudi Arabia to co-operate with the United States. When the American ambassador in Riyadh, Don Heath, asked for permission to use the big American air base at Dhahran for U.S. military planes, he just didn't get an answer. Crown Prince Faisal, now real ruler of Saudi Arabia, reported that he had tried to secure landing rights from the Saudi cabinet, but they had asked too many questions for him to answer. Prince Faisal complained that he had not been given enough information by the United States to satisfy the questions of his ministers.

This was just an Arab stall. Saudi Arabia is a monarchy where one man's word is law. Prince Faisal could have given that word himself. The Eisenhower administration exuded all kinds of fancy folderol and royal chichi to entertain King Saud last year on the excuse that this was necessary to renew the Dhahran air base. Apparently that folderol was in vain. The lease was renewed, but current military use denied.

As these developments were cabled back to President Eisenhower in Washington, a highly important secret meeting took place in Moscow. President Nasser of Egypt, though supposedly en route to Syria from a conference with Tito in Yugoslavia, suddenly turned up in Moscow. Just how he got there remains a mystery. His yacht was under observation all the way from the Adriatic to Syria, and it was thought he was aboard. But he was not. Possibly a dummy substituted for him aboard the yacht. At any rate his sudden arrival in Moscow was a complete surprise.

His talks with Khrushchev kept Washington on tenterhooks. At first it was thought that Nasser was getting Russian support for possible military intervention against the United States. Sketchy reports now received indicate that he advised Khrushchev just the opposite — namely, to stay out of the Near East except as a last resort in case of a British-American attack on Iraq.

Meanwhile the new Iraqi government was making diplomatic overtures to the West to stave off any western plans for attack. It sent word first through the West German embassy, later direct through U.S. Ambassador Gallman that oil would continue to flow. It even sent a work crew to the American embassy to clean up the "go home" posters plastered on embassy walls during the revolt. Ambassador Gallman reported that the new government seemed to be popular with the Iraqi people.

Offsetting this, Eisenhower received vigorous representations both from the Turks and King Hussein of Jordan that the new Iraqi government was practicing surface appeasement only, aimed at lulling the West into a false sense of security.

DORIS FLEESON

Faubus Is Oil On Civil Rights Fire

WASHINGTON — The Faubus landslide in Arkansas materialized as expected. In the short run, it will further discourage the southern moderates whose inability to mobilize effective third force in the war over segregation has been one of the saddest aspects of that struggle.

Also, the emotion aroused may spill over into next-door Tennessee and further impair the renomination prospects of Senator Albert Gore, the able moderate being challenged by former Governor Prentice Cooper on the segregation issue. Should Gore go down, all political spokesmen for the new South will feel imperiled.

In the long run, all the problems attached to effective enforcement of the Supreme Court ban on segregation in the public schools remain. The latest figures show the extent of deep South defiance.

In seven of the 11 states of the old Confederacy, no schools have been desegregated. In the 17 southern and border states which had had some laws enforcing segregation, 777 schools have obeyed the court's decree but all of these except 15 are in border states. The net is that 2,112 schools are still segregated in the South, which has about 5,500 other schools where the problem does not arise.

Governor Orval E. Faubus' Little Rock returns to the news next week when the entire bench of the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals — eight judges — will meet to hear an appeal from a lower federal court decision postponing school integration there.

The Supreme Court has pointedly implied that it expects that appeals tribunal to decide the case before the schools reopen. That will be in only a few short weeks, since most public schools reopen after Labor Day.

Then President Eisenhower can expect he will have to take fresh and painful decisions in the civil rights area. His Civil Rights commission will be of little help; it is still not in effective operation and its tenure is so short it can do little anyway to command the situation.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

O, Where Is The Hickory-Smoked Ham?

By MONA B. PARKER

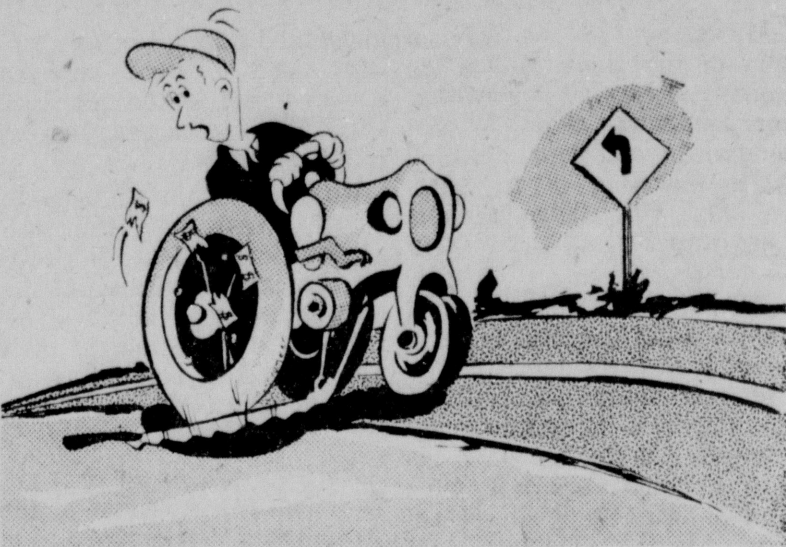

With a western wind kicking up its heels into violent weather, the Chappell Register notes that "for a while it looked like we wouldn't have enough trees left to have a picnic under."

Blame for some of the unsettled atmospheric conditions has been pointed toward the cloud seeders who have been trying to reduce hail damage by seeding threatening formations with silver iodide crystals, but the blame is unwarranted, says the Western Nebraska Observer. Who is going to take the blame for rain, hail and twisters that have hit several hundred miles south of Kimball?

E. N. Thomas of Ravenna has helped these days on his fishing excursions. The News carried a picture of Fisherman Thomas and "Topper," his English setter at the state lake there. Or rather, "in" the lake, Topper stands on his hind legs and treads water as he keeps his eye on the bobber.

Eleanor Seberger of the Dawson County Herald combined mulberries and rhubarb and lemons in her preserve-making kettle and, if she did say so herself, wound up with a batch of delicious "bread-spread." Besides her word for it, it was obvious from the fact that "we used five loaves of bread between eleven p.m. one night and three p.m. the next afternoon."

A writer for the Burwell Tribune has been pursuing

State highway workers were having themselves a chuckle at the expense of Vergil Carlson of Lyons, and his glee—short-lived—in what he thought to be an unexpected windfall. Mr. Carlson was mowing a long the highway shoulder when he found a billfold, caught and torn by the mower. He pieced together the remains of a five-dollar bill and was on his way to the bank, when he discovered a scrap of paper with his name on it. He had mowed his own billfold into unretrievable shreds.

an elusive will-o'-the-wisp and is finally convinced that it is either unattainable, or only the remnants of a childhood dream.

She is giving up her search for hickory-smoked ham.

Once, nearly 20 years ago, she saw beautiful hams in a Nashville, Tennessee, shop window. She purchased one, had it expressed home. "It had never seen hickory wood."

Five years ago she toured the southern states and on up the east coast, and in Albany, New York, thought sure her search was ended. "That ham had never caught a whiff of hickory smoke."

Perhaps, she has concluded a bit sadly, what she has really been searching for is that long ago youthful sense of taste, when everything tasted wonderful—"even hot cornbread with sorghum dripping down the sides, or fresh side meat and potato cooked with the jackets on."

Helen Marr is a farmwife-turned-city-dweller, and all of a sudden after all these years of tossing table scraps to the dogs and cats, and peels to the chickens, garbage has become a problem. The receptacle provided for scraps soon was full and overflowing, and a larger one had to be provided. "Life seemed so much less complex before garbage containers assumed such a place of importance in our lives. I have that 'don't fence me in' feeling of the range people."

MARQUIS CHILDS

Summit Parley, Western Mess

LONDON — The mess into which the Western Allies have fallen in their separate ways of looking at the summit can scarcely be exaggerated, and yet no one here believes that it is possible to prevent the wrong meeting at the wrong place at the wrong time.

On the contrary, this reporter has been told that if the United States were to try to postpone or call off the proposed session within the framework of the United Nations Security Council, the reaction here would be such as to shatter the bond between Britain and America almost beyond repair.

This is a measure of the hope so widely held and so shrewdly exploited for political ends in this tight little island. It is the hope that by confronting the Russians a settlement can somehow be worked out that will relieve the fear and the tension under which the world lives.

What becomes evident, therefore, is that only Nikita S. Khrushchev himself can prevent the meeting from taking place in New York on or about August 12. And while he shows every sign of exploiting the differences between the allies as he goes on hurling every kind of furious charge at the West, Khrushchev wants the meeting too badly to let anything stand in its way.

President Eisenhower has already said that he would attend a summit meeting, under the auspices of the Security Council, in any city except Moscow. Perhaps Geneva would be regarded as the most neutral location possible, and would help to resolve some of the problems that seem to be building up even before anyone sits down to talk.

Short of some drastic and far-reaching initiative that is not now in sight, the course the meeting will follow is already fairly evident. Khrushchev and the Russians intend to exploit to the fullest the intervention in Lebanon and Jordan. Even if the Marines have already pulled out or a date for their leaving has been set. This will be effective propaganda to the Arab states that will presumably be participating in the conference.

From the Western side, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is preparing an offensive that will serve notice, as he already has done several times, that Britain and the United States are not coming as prisoners in the dock. This offensive is being built around the charge that the real danger is from internal subversion planned and directed by Moscow.

Dulles is preparing to call the grim roll going back as far as the absorption of Estonia and Latvia into the Soviet empire at the outset of World War II to prove that independence is anathema to the Russian masters. This roll call goes on through the civil war in Greece, the seizure of power in Czechoslovakia and the Communist wars in Indo-China and Korea. The indictment is a massive one and is certainly calculated to arouse Khrushchev to new heights of fury and vituperation.

For the moment, that seems to be the only likely outcome of the confrontation in New York. One practical objective might have been the discussion of an arms embargo in the Mideast, even though it is very late for such a discussion in view of the widespread shipment of arms by both sides.

But the suggestion of an embargo comes up against the fundamental difference between Moscow and Washington, as Dulles made clear in meeting with the ministers of the Baghdad Pact Council in London on Monday. Asked by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko some time ago whether he would include Pakistan, Turkey and Iran, the remaining eastern members of the Baghdad pact, in any Mideast arms arrangement, Dulles replied firmly that, of course, he would not.

It is the arming of these three nations with borders adjoining or close to the Soviet Union under the containment policy that has caused real and profound fear in Moscow. To Moscow, containment is encirclement. Consequently, any embargo which exempted, at the very least, Turkey and Iran would be, from the Russian viewpoint, worthless. To leave these two powers in an exposed position, open to the kind of subversion that leads to a "friendly government" — that is, a submissive Communist government — would be unthinkable for the West.

AEC Aiming At Perfection In Quick-On-Trigger A-Weapons

Washington (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission is aiming at perfection of quick-on-the-trigger nuclear weapons, ready within minutes for use as bombs, missiles or artillery pieces.

It said in a semiannual report to Congress that this is one of the objectives of a development program directed also at providing nuclear explosives of greatly reduced radioactive fallout in a variety of sizes.

This variety includes the big, mass destruction bombs and missile warheads; smaller yield weapons for battlefield use, and antiaircraft missiles.

Up to now, weapon design and safety requirements have resulted in the partial assembly of weapons. The essential triggering devices needed to set off the fission or fusion reaction have been left out of the assembly until the time approached for use of the weapon.

First Bomb

To complete assembly of the first atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima in World War II required almost one hour of nerve-straining, meticulous work by a weaponeer crouched in the bomb bay of a B29 en route to the target.

Presumably, the immediately ready capability being developed is equally critical for the air defense weapons already being installed in the United States. These include the Army's Nike Hercules and the Air Force's Bomarc long range missile.

Although the AEC emphasized the requirement for immediately ready nuclear weapons, it reiterated its contention that the possibility of an accidental nuclear explosion, such as might result from the crash or accidental release of a bomb, is so remote as to be negligible.

The report also said the commission's weapons laboratories are continuing to cooperate with the Defense Department in missile programs "so that the missile warhead will be an integrated part of a weapons system and ready when the missile system is ready."

Ballistic Missiles

The report did not expand on that point. However, it seemed possible the reference was to having warheads ready for ballistic missiles when they have been fully perfected and go into development. The Defense Department announced officially early last year that nuclear warheads for ground-to-air and air-to-air delivery were being issued to Army and air defense units.

The use of comparatively short range missiles in combination with nuclear warheads is only now being tried out in the current series of Pacific nuclear tests. These firings probably include further perfection of antiaircraft weapons.

Conservation Reserve Rate Up

Nebraska farmers can expect to receive a basic rate of $12.50 per acre under the federal conservation reserve program for contracting to plant acreage in cover crops next year.

This is $3.50 per acre more than the former rate.

According to Robert Zink, Lincoln program specialist in charge of the Nebraska office of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Division, the new Nebraska rate was included in new state's "average" rates released by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, based on a new national average of $13.50 per acre.

The county rates in the state will vary from $9 to as high as $18, depending on the size of the acreage which the farmer intends to contract.

Currently, there are 154,167 Nebraska grain acres contracted to cover crops in some 2,212 contracts by farmers.

City Post Office

Receipts Up 4.8%

Lincoln Post Office receipts were $204,716 for July—an increase of 4.8% compared with a year ago.

Postal officials expect a decided increase next month, reflecting the new postal rate increase effective Aug. 1.

Postal savings deposits of $1,566,188 continued the downward trend from $1,952,571 a year ago.

Money Orders totalled $187,285 as against $186,634 for the same month in 1957.

VA Move Shouldn't Put Cost Above Aid—Sisk

Lincoln Star Special

Washington — Rep. B. F. Sisk of California, chairman of the House Veterans Affairs subcommittee investigating the proposed move of the VA's regional office from Lincoln to Omaha, said Thursday he thought it would be "most unfortunate" if the VA were more concerned about costs than service to veterans.

Sisk made the comment after reading a letter VA Administrator Sumner Whittier had written Thursday to Nebraska's First District Rep. Phil Weaver relative to a policy decision to keep the regional office in Lincoln.

Whittier had said that after a survey made of the space in the State Farm Mutual Building in Lincoln, "we have determined that if certain conditions can be met, the space . . . would acceptably meet our needs for a regional office in the state of Nebraska."

Needs Determined

Stating that the VA had determined what would have to be done to the State Farm Mutual Building to make it suitable, Whittier commented:

"This would have to be accomplished at no cost to the government and the rental arrangement would have to be worked out so that the space in Lincoln would not be more expensive to the government than the space in the new building in Omaha."

Sisk said, "It seems to me the administrator is putting all of his determination on a dollar and cents basis, when the ability to render service to veterans should be the prime consideration in the whole problem."

"I think it would be most unfortunate," Sisk commented, "if they base their determination on the provision that it does not increase costs. The decision to remain in Lincoln should be based on what's best for the veterans."

Requirements

The VA has said it wants a mezzanine floor in the State Farm Mutual Building extended to a full floor, removal of window display areas, air conditioning, fire escape repairs, lighting and wiring improvements, fire alarm and extinguishing equipment, stair covering, safety doors on eleva-

Adlai, Soviet's Mikoyan Chat 2 Hours; Views Unchanged

Moscow (AP) — Adlai Stevenson and Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan debated the cold war and the Mideast crisis for 2 hours and 10 minutes.

After it was over, Stevenson said the Soviet and the U.S. positions were no closer than they have been.

"Mikoyan did not budge an inch," Stevenson said. "He was restrained but firm."

"We covered the whole gamut of Soviet-American relations and the ways and means of reducing the cold war."

Stevenson said he hopes to see Mikoyan again before he leaves next week and has also asked to make a courtesy call on Premier Khrushchev.

Discusses Trade

In the talk with Mikoyan, Stevenson said he discussed the question of U.S.-Soviet trade and inquired about various aspects of Soviet trade with Red China, particularly the manner of payment.

Other subjects Stevenson said were discussed included international economic development of underprivileged countries and Soviet objectives there, the Soviet decentralization program, and Soviet domestic problems.

Commenting on the friendly reception he got on his 2-week tour of Central Asia and Western Siberia, Stevenson quipped: "Those were some of the friendliest precincts I have been in. They reminded me of Harlem in '52."

Russians Friendly

Stevenson said he is deeply impressed by the friendliness of the Soviet people but added: "I regret to say I've found a depressing lack of knowledge and understanding of the United States, our way of life and our purposes."

(Soviet censors held up a dispatch Thursday that included Stevenson's comments on Soviet jamming of Western radio broadcasts).

Largest U.S. Producers Latest To Up Steel Prices

From Press Dispatches

New York — U.S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel, the nation's 2 largest steel producers, jumped on the steel price increase bandwagon with rises almost certain to bring price tag markups on consumer goods ranging from hairpins to automobiles.

The chain of increases, which was set off by a new round of steel industry wage hikes, brought Congressional grumbling and an administration warning that higher prices might slow down the recovery from the 1957-58 business recession.

With the new increases, ranging from $4.25 to $4.50 a ton, steel prices will have jumped nearly $63 a ton since World War II, to a total of an average of nearly $150 a ton.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, said in Washington that he is calling this group together to discuss action.

He said he will recommend that the committee resume an investigation of steel pricing practices.

Pittsburgh (AP) — Aluminum prices climbed upwards almost simultaneously with the announcement of the latest steel increase.

The Aluminum Co. of America, world's largest producer, announced a boost of 7/10 of a cent per pound. Other aluminum producers were expected to take similar action.

Police Seek Fraudulent 'Assistant Pastor' Who Got $160

A series of telephone calls apparently were used by an unidentified man, now being sought by Lincoln police officers, to establish himself as the assistant pastor of a local church and apparently obtain $160 through that position.

According to a report given to police by a Lincoln girl this is what happened: A man, who identified himself as assistant pastor of the United Lutheran Church, using the name "George Boyd", called the girl in response to an ad—she was interested in babysitting work — and "hired" her as a secretary.

He told her to report at 9 a.m. to the church at 15th and Q which is the University Lutheran Chapel.

When the girl arrived at the office, it was empty but she soon received a call from Boyd. He told her that a typewriter, an adding machine and some office supplies would be delivered soon and instructed her to take a check out of a desk drawer to pay for the equipment.

He also informed her she would receive some change from the transaction and she should put the change in an envelope in the desk drawer.

Following "Boyd's" directions she gave the deliveryman the check which amounted to $400, and put the change, $160, in the envelope in the drawer.

Later "Boyd" called, learned that the money was in the drawer and instructed the girl to go to the University of Nebraska Library to get some books which were "on reserve" for the church.

She was unable to find the books or contact "Boyd" so she got in touch with Mrs. A. J. Norden, wife of the Lutheran Chapel pastor who was out of town. Mrs. Norden informed her that there was no Mr. Boyd connected with the church.

When the girl returned to the church the money was gone from the drawer. The Rev. Mr. Norden told police he was out of town when the incident took place because of a call he received Tuesday from a man who identified himself as "Carl Johnson an Omaha attorney."

"Johnson" requested the pastor to attend a probate court hearing involving a Omaha church but when the Rev. Mr. Nordsn arrived in Omaha Wednesday he discovered that the probate court was not in session.

Solons Put Ban On Switchblades

Washington (UPI) — Final Congressional approval was given Thursday to a ban on the interstate manufacture and shipment of switchblade knives—the main weapon in the arsenal of juvenile delinquents.

The bill would impose penalties of up to a $2,000 fine and 5 years in prison for violations.

Chairman Warren Magnuson (D-Wash) of the Senate Commerce Committee emphasized that the legislation would "Not affect sportsmen, mummy-peg or having a boy scout knife." He said it was designed to keep concealed-blade weapons used for criminal purposes out of circulation.

House Votes For Social Security Increase

FATTER CHECKS LIKELY

Washington (AP)—The House voted 375-2 Thursday to boost social security pension benefits by 7%.

This enthusiastic approval carried along an election-year custom that goes back to 1950—doing something for the old folks.

Only Rep. Noah Mason (R-Ill.) and Rep. Bruce Alger (R-Tex.) voted "No" on the bill, which also would mean a boost in payroll taxes.

Time Is Short

The next step is up to the Senate, with not much time remaining before Congress expects to adjourn. Similar legislation has been proposed there; and several senators have made speeches in support of it.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, has said he would help get the bill before the Senate.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee said he would bring the social security bill before the committee as soon as it finishes with its present business—a small business tax bill.

Under the House bill, there would be a minimum boost of $3 a month in old age, survivors and disability benefits.

The 12 million persons now on the retired rolls would go to a range of $33 to $118 a month from the present range of $30 to $108.50. Maximum family benefits would go from $200 to $254 a month.

For workers going on the retired rolls at 65 in the future, the top monthly benefit would reach $127.

Retired workers could earn as much as $100 a month at jobs, rather than $80, without losing their benefits.

Payroll taxes would go up in order to pay for the added benefits.

Gillett Hands Election Office Keys To Successor

Miss Evans Has Key To Election—Office, That Is

By Virgil Falloon

Miss Anna M. Evans, the third Lancaster County Election Commissioner appointed since the office was established in 1947, begins her new duties Friday.

Commissioner Harold Gillett handed the office keys to his successor Thursday afternoon "with best wishes for a successful term."

Gillett, who resigned the $4,000-a-year post for "personal reasons," said he would continue in the insurance business.

Active Republican

Miss Evans, who is active in the Republican party, is not exactly a stranger to the election office.

As a records management consultant with a Lincoln firm, she was instrumental in setting up the file system for voter registration records when the election office was created in 1947.

"I don't know whether I will be able to improve on my work or not," Miss Evans laughed when asked if she planned any changes in that department.

She said she was "very pleased" that B. E. (Pat) Boyles, a Lincoln attorney, is remaining as deputy commissioner. All staff members will be retained, she said.

Miss Evans has been appointed to the unexpired portion of Gillett's term ending Sept. 7, 1959, but is expected to be reappointed at that time.

Gov. Victor Anderson has praised Gillett for "outstanding service" in the election post.

Miss Evans, the daughter of the late Robert E. Evans, congressman and State Supreme Court Justice, was the first woman to be named to the Nebraska Merit System Council. She will devote her full-time to her new post.

Senate OKs Nuclear Powered Ice-Breaker

Washington (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the President Thursday a bill to authorize construction of a nuclear-powered ice-breaker for the Coast Guard.

Tentative plans call for a 350-foot long vessel somewhat smaller than the nuclear powered ice-breaker which Russia has built for research in the Arctic.

The cost of the ice-breaker is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 60 million dollars.

850 Children Take Part In Fitness Tests

Approximately 850 children took part in fitness tests given on local playgrounds in conjunction with Joseph Lee Week.

Lee, who is credited with organizing the first playground, is known as the Godfather of Play.

Participants scoring 1st in all events on their playgrounds are Bill Clark, College View; Linda Franson, Hawthorne; Susan Aikman, Prescott and Sonya Brese, Saratoga.

Earning outstanding scores are Bonnie Peters, College View; Henry Jackson, Elliott; Randall Shaner, Hawthorne; Gregg Aksmitt, Merle Beattie and James Wallin, Prescott.

A group of 5 tests were given the children to measure over-all fitness. Each child was in competition with other children of his own age and sex and winners had to score more total points in all events than anyone else in his age group.

Bank Clearings In Lincoln Show $2 Million Hike

An increase of $20,435,722.16 was shown in Lincoln bank clearings for the first 7 months of 1956 compared with the same period last year.

The Jan. 1-July 31 total was $326,576,329.39 and the aggregate for the corresponding 7 months in 1957 was $306,140,602.23.

The Lincoln clearings showed a gain in July for the 7th consecutive month, the increase being $2,238,356.92.

The figures:
July '58 $47,601,066.08
July '57 45,362,709.16
The June 1958 total was $46,834,412.25.

From South Pole To Sheepskin—'WORLD'S COLDEST MAN' TO GET NU DIPLOMA

For a man who has been plagued by "degrees" in the past there will be another degree of a different, more comfortable nature Friday evening.

Herbert L. Hansen, 30, Nebraska City, geography major, will be one of some 405 members of the University of Nebraska summer graduating class to receive his degree—a Bachelor of Arts—at the 7 p.m. outdoor ceremonies on Memorial Mall.

The previous "degrees" were encountered by Hansen in 1957, about a month later than now, on a 9,200 foot-high ice and snow plateau at the South Pole.

It was in that flat, white, treeless stretch of land that Hansen—dressed in thermal boots, down-lined parka, blizzard-proof trousers, mittens, gloves and an anticold "gas mask"—recorded the world's official low temperature of -102.1 degrees.

At IGY Station

Hansen was a member of an 18-man American team which spent 10 months at the Amundsen-Scott IGY South Pole Station to prove that man could live and work in the coldest temperatures on earth.

The Nebraskan was one of the team's 4 meteorologists who worked around the clock in 2-man shifts. One of their tasks was to check the delicate instruments, located almost 100 yards from the camp, every 3 hours.

In relating other "firsts" experienced by his American team, Hansen said: "We lived through the longest possible voluntary dark period on earth—approximately 4 months of complete darkness. We survived the coldest temperatures ever endured by men up to that time (169 consecutive days with temperatures below -40 degrees, with the coldest month averaging -80 degrees, accompanied by 15 to 20 m.p.h. winds).

3 Hours—95 below
"In a test, I was able to stay out for 3 hours with the temperature averaging minus 97.5 degrees with a 15-knot wind," he said.

After Friday's ceremonies, he's heading for new adventures at Wilkes Station, about 1,600 miles from the South Pole, where he will train a group of Australians in the use of American weather equipment.

HERBERT L. HANSEN

Hansen, a graduate of Nebraska City High School in 1945, attended the University from 1950-53, returning this past spring to complete his degree. He is the son of Mrs. Minnie Hansen of Nebraska City.

Attorney General Rules On Law Governing Justice Of Peace Actions

A county attorney may not grant blanket approval to bringing actions before a justice of the peace by specified officers, the attorney general has ruled.

The opinion, requested by Lincoln County Attorney J. G. McIntosh of North Platte, said further that the consent of a county attorney to bringing action before a justice of the peace is only necessary in contested cases which must be tried.

State law vests a discretion in a county attorney to approve or disapprove the bringing of actions before a justice of the peace, the opinion said.

The discretion was given the county attorney as a responsible officer having the necessary knowledge to discern whether or not the actions are brought for bona fide reasons, the opinion continued, adding that the county is thus protected from the payment of costs for cases which should not have been brought in the first place.

In contested cases, the justice of the peace must secure approval of the county attorney to bring an action before proceeding to trial.

However, in cases where a plea of guilty is received, the justice of the peace has no disqualifying interest in the outcome of the action, and may proceed to sentence a defendant and collect fine and costs without approval or consent of a county attorney, the opinion concluded.

Attorney General Clarence S. Beck, and Cecil S. Brubaker, assistant attorney general, signed the opinion.

It's a Fact...
More than 44 million of the 50 million U. S. households will receive a newspaper today.
At the turn of the century, on an average day, 15 million newspapers were purchased. Today, 58 million newspapers are purchased on an average day.
Practically every sale of every product manufactured in the U. S. will be purchased by one of the 100 million people who read a newspaper on an average day.
For decades, newspapers' audited circulation has kept pace with the increasing number of U. S. households. Since 1920, the number of U. S. households has more than doubled; newspaper circulation has also more than doubled.
Despite increased competition for people's time, newspaper circulation in the U. S. has reached a new all-time high of 58 million newspapers purchased daily. With Canada added, the figure is over 61 million newspapers purchased daily.

Farm Bureau Protests Machinery Valuation

By Betty Person

A 7-man delegation of Nebraska Farm Bureau members appeared before the State Board of Equalization Thursday to protest the assessed valuation on farm machinery and asked the Board to make a 15% reduction in the valuation of such property.

Explaining that the Board can "only lower or raise whole classes of property to equalize valuation between counties," State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington said that farm machinery generally is considered "part of a class of property" and therefore cannot be touched by the Board.

Edwin Kent, president of the Adams County Farm Bureau, told the Board the assessed value on farm machinery is so lopsided compared with other property that "it's hard to find a county assessor in rural Nebraska who has many friends now-a-days."

Irrigation Pipe Cited

Glen Rader of Trumbull, head of the Farm Bureau in Hall County, said he had purchased irrigation pipe at $1.50 per foot, and that it was assessed at $1.80 per foot.

He added that farmers over the state generally believe their farm machinery is assessed 56% higher this year than last.

Herrington explained that the valuation schedule for farm machinery is written by the county assessors at their annual convention.

In order to assure uniform assessments over the state, Herrington said he has written in his rules and regulations for all county assessors that the valuation schedules adopted by the assessors' association must be followed.

"State Cannot Do"

"The Tax Commissioner's office cannot determine the value of farm machinery," Herrington said, adding, "if I could, then I could also set the value of all of your farm property . . . and I'm quite sure the preponderance of people in Nebraska don't want that . . . they want the values set at the local level."

Herrington suggested that the group appear "en masse" at the Nebraska County Assessors Association meeting next January to submit their suggestions on the valuations which should be set on farm machinery.

The tax commissioner told the Farm Bureau representatives he "sympathizes" with their plight, but that nothing can be done about it at the state level.

Others in the group included Herman Link, president of the Buffalo County Farm Bureau.

School 'Unfair'

Chicago (AP)—A dozen girls stomped out of Jones Commercial High School because they were forbidden to wear their Elvis Presley dog-tag jewelry to class.

They quickly formed a picket line outside and with hastily scribbled signs proclaimed the school "unfair to Elvis."

Grain Charge Drop Granted

The State Railway Commission granted the Union Pacific Railroad authority to eliminate out of line haul charges of 1 1/2¢ per 100 pounds of grain at Lincoln, when originating at Valparaiso, Foley, Rising City and Shelby.

The commission authorized the Chicago and North Western Railway to discontinue caretaker service and retire depot facilities at Morse Bluff.

The Paxton Telephone Exchange and the Madrid-Elsie Telephone Exchange, both in Paxton, won commission approval to transfer all properties to Chispe's Telephone Co., also of Paxton.

Base Fliers Meet 'Father' Of 'Best Friends'

Soaring at jet speed above far-away foreign soil in the blackness of night, a Strategic Air Command navigator refers to one of his numerous technical devices to chart the position of his B-47 bomber. Chances are he'll pick up a "plotter," drawing, almanac or chart with the name Weems on it. Phillip V. H. Weems travels—via his inventions and navigational developments—with the men of SAC.

"Almost everything for navigation was developed by this man," alert, intent Maj. William Polhemus of Lincoln Air Force Base says. "We couldn't navigate without his 'plotter.'"

Quite A Compliment
That's quite a compliment coming from SAC's navigator member of the top bombing crew of 1956.

Weems, an affable 69-year-old Southern conversationalist and navigational specialist, visited LAFB Thursday.

The retired U.S. Navy captain, veteran of 2 world conflicts, teacher of Lindbergh, Ellsworth and Amy Johnson and world-honored craftsman now operates a publishing company, navigation business and navigation school at Annapolis, Md.

His contribution to air navigation will forever remain unmeasured. SAC navigators will tell you.

30 Years Ago
And yet, most of his developments were perfected some 30 years ago—in the late 1920s. But recognition often comes late.

Capt. Weems received in 1954, 1955 and 1956 awards from the top French, British and American navigational societies, and a gold medal from the American Philosophical Society for his work in navigational science.

He recalls teaching Charles Lindbergh the intricate processes of navigation. "Lucky Lindy" made up for his lack of knowledge in navigational science with "shrewdness," Capt. Weems explains.

In Navy Since '08

In the Navy since 1908, Capt. Weems began navigational work in 1919 when he did survey work closely related to the field. In 1924, he returned to the Naval Academy to teach navigation.

The world traveler served in the Navy from 1908-1933 and during the Second World War from 1942-46, much of the time in charge of troop convoys.

He has spent his life since his early ideas were generated in developing what his mind first created, the captain said.

Pawlak Ousted

Warsaw, Poland (AP)—The Polish Communist leadership ousted Stanislaw Pawlak from the important post of the first party secretary for the Warsaw region, informed sources reported.

He was known as a member of a group which has long feuded with party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka. The ouster was seen as an effort to strengthen Gomulka's position before the party's third congress, believed scheduled for December.

District 34 And Waverly Merged

Lancaster County School Dist. 34 north of Waverly has been dissolved and merged with the Waverly town district.

County School Supt. Glenn Turner took the action Thursday after a public hearing on the proposal produced no opposition to the proposal, which had been approved by both district's school boards. The 10 students in Dist. 34 will attend Waverly schools this fall.

Murphy In Israel

... Talks To Ben-Gurion

Tel Aviv, Israel (AP)—Robert Murphy, President Eisenhower's special envoy, met for more than an hour Thursday with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

Among the subjects believed to have been raised was that of Israel's willingness for talks with Arab leaders on a permanent peace.

Murphy said Robt. Murphy he had "a very useful general discussion of the situation in the Middle East."

Talks between Israel and its Arab neighbors would be designed to frame a permanent peace treaty. There has been only an uneasy armistice since the cease-fire in the Palestine war 10 years ago.

Ben-Gurion expressed Tuesday his eagerness to hold such talks. He pointed out that peace talks were provided for in one of the clauses of the armistice.

The newspaper Haboker reported earlier this week that Ben-Gurion personally asked Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to use his good offices in bringing about a conference with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

Government circles have refused either to confirm or deny this.

Corn Crop Prospects 'Excellent'

Corn crop prospects for most of Lancaster County were listed Thursday as excellent by Cyril Bish, county extension agent.

All of the upland corn has benefited from the heavy July rains, Bish pointed out. He said, "If we receive about 4 inches of rain in the next 2 months the corn should be well matured."

The prospects for corn planted in the lowlands is not quite as bright according to him.

Bish noted that the corn that was flooded, particularly along Salt Creek, was showing signs of being slow to recover.

"The bottom land corn is showing signs of water logging caused by a lack of oxygen," the agent said.

Douglas Rejects Carpenter's Tax Data Request

Omaha (AP)—The Douglas County Board declined to undertake a job of compiling tax information for Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, chairman of a Legislative Council committee studying Nebraska's tax situation.

If Carpenter wants the information he'll have to come and look it up, the board said.

Carpenter sent a letter to the county clerk requesting data concerning this year's Board of Equalization sessions.

He asked the county clerk to copy and send the names of taxpayers who were required to appear before the "Board of Adjustment," the action taken in each case and the recorded reasons, if any, for each action.

The commissioners composed a letter to be sent to Carpenter over the signature of County Clerk John Slavik, saying "it would be a big job to compile all this information for you." The letter added: "All my clerks are very busy."

A KKG Pledge Class Reunion

A fun reunion was in progress Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Hoppe who was hostess to the members of her Kappa Kappa Gamma pledge class—that is as many members as it was possible to round up. It has been many years since the group has met, so, "do you remember", was a much-repeated phrase during the afternoon, which followed luncheon at the Lincoln Country Club.

Dear Abby . . .

SOS To All Service Moms!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Thank goodness I don't have any problems as serious as those I read about in your column, but I do have a little problem that maybe your readers could help me out with. Our son is serving in Korea and he has asked me to send him something good to eat, like cookies, candy or fruitcake. What can I send that will arrive in good condition that he and his buddies will enjoy? How should I wrap it to be sure it will be fit to eat when it gets there? This may sound like a small problem, but it is big to a mother with a son in service.

DEAR MOM: If there are any mothers out there who know what can be sent to a boy overseas (and how to wrap it) I hope they will contact this column. It would be a pleasure to pass the recipes and hints for wrapping on to you.

DEAR ABBY: That letter from Pearl the Squirrel caused me to blow a fuse. I am a happy bachelor, aged 50, who has a beautiful apartment, brand new car, a bank roll and my mamma does my cooking. Honest, Abby, what discriminating bachelor wants a WIDOW anyway? No second-hand goods for me!

BACHELOR BOY

DEAR BACHELOR: And pray tell where are you going to find a blushing maiden on whom no man's hand has ever set foot who'd want a 50-year-old bachelor boy?

DEAR ABBY: If a fellow gives a girl a very expensive diamond ring for an engagement, should HE pay for insuring it or should she? This is creating quite a big problem in my family and I want some outside opinions.

ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: Any boy who can afford a very expensive diamond should be able to insure it. There is no good reason why the girl (or her father) should assume the expense of insuring her engagement ring.

DEAR ABBY: Each year around this time we are swamped with announcements of graduations, confirmations and weddings. Some are invitations to attend these affairs, but what do you think of the ANNOUNCEMENTS telling you the affair took place? It looks like they are asking you for a present. My husband and I have to ask each other if we even know some of these people. Do you think we should ignore the announcements or should we send a gift? MRS. D. S.

DEAR MRS. D. S.: If you aren't sure you "know" these people who send you announcements, just send them a note of congratulations. The best rule to follow is to give a gift only when you sincerely WANT to.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PUZZLED: Don't let Julia fool ya! No nice girl has three dates in one evening.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

A Party In Farewell Courtesy

A farewell courtesy was on the social calendar for Tuesday evening when Miss Nancy Kimmerling and Miss Martha Dennison entertained a group of Southeast High School classmates honoring Miss Mary Poulson.

Miss Poulson, who with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clair C. Poulson, will leave in the near future to reside in Omaha, was presented a gift by the group at a patio supper held at the home of Miss Kimmerling. The refreshments followed a session of miniature golf.

Town Talk

—there is more news of interesting guests this morning—One guest threesome already is in town, and there is a mid-August date for the arrival of some visitors from Phoenix.

On our current guest list are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cunningham and their daughter, Corelie, of Washington D.C., who are the house guests of Mr. Cunningham's parents, Col. and Mrs. Harry Cunningham.

The Washington address for Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham and their daughter is not a permanent one. Due to the fact that Mr. Cunningham is in the diplomatic corps, the Cunninghams have lived all around the world—including the mid-East trouble spots of recent weeks.

—then we heard that Mrs. James E. M. Thomson and her children of Phoenix, Ariz., were in and out of town on Wednesday. Mrs. Thomson and her family are the guests of Mrs. Thomson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto F. Walter in Columbus at the moment—but will come to Lincoln in mid-

August for a longer visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Thomson.

—just this moment learned that Mr. and Mrs. Perry Branch and Mrs. Branch's mother, Mrs. M. Olive Watson, are plane-ing off to Rochester, N.Y. next Wednesday. The travelers will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Branch, Jr., and their family.

—for days and days we have been wanting to tell you some interesting news, but the main characters in the story seemed to think it was a secret. It wasn't, and now we can say that Mrs. Leland Forrest and Albert Held have plans for a wedding in September.

Arriving from Evanston, Ill., in time for the ceremony will be Mrs. Forest's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey L. Forrest.

—understand that Miss Elizabeth Tierny left a few days ago to fly to Switzerland where she will remain for a few weeks as the guest of her sister, Mrs. John G. Maher.

Courtesy To Late Summer Bride

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Mary Mulligan who has chosen Saturday, Aug. 16 as the date for her marriage to Eldon Shuey, Miss Sally Adams and Mrs. Stanley Kniffin entertained at a desert supper on Thursday evening. The 12 guests were invited to the home of Miss Adams, and during the evening a miscellaneous shower was presented to the honoree.

Among the out-of-town guests who were present were the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. John Mulligan and her sister, Miss Patricia Mulligan, both of David City.

Visitors From North Carolina

Visitors arriving in Lincoln on Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Patrick N. Walker of

The Walkers will spend a week in Lincoln as the houseguests of Mr. Walker's mother, Mrs. Loretta A. Walker, and earlier this week they visited members of Mrs. Walker's family at Fremont.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Walker are graduates of the University of Nebraska, and Mr. Walker is an engineer with the U.S. Geological Survey in Raleigh.

Brides' Book

Host and hostess at a pre-nuptial dinner on Saturday, Aug. 2, will be Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Klima of Milligan who will honor their daughter, Miss Louise Klima, and her fiancé, Kenneth Niles Barnard. The affair will be held at the University Club, and members of the bridal party and families have been invited for the evening.

Miss Klima and Mr. Barnard will be married on Sunday, Aug. 3, and the ceremony will be solemnized at Trinity Methodist Church.

An early August bride-to-be, Miss Sharon Splain, was honored on Wednesday, July 30, at a personal shower and dessert supper given by Miss Sally Maxwell and held at the Maxwell home.

On Friday, July 18, Mrs. Harry Shaffer, Mrs. William Dick, Mrs. Elmer Strandberg and Mrs. William Spader entertained at a miscellaneous shower and dessert supper honoring Miss Splain. The evening affair was held at the Strandberg home.

The marriage of Miss Splain and Ronald D. Suiter will be an event of Friday evening, Aug. 1.

Arriving in Lincoln last week were the Rev. and Mrs. Frank E. Bradley and their children, Rebecca, Carol and William, of Mobile, Ala. Rev. and Mrs. Bradley are visiting their daughters, Mrs. Lyle Mitchell and Mrs. James W. Welch, their husbands and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bornemeier and their three children, Robert, Nancy and Susan, left on Monday to return to their home in Seattle after spending several days as the houseguests of Mr. Bornemeier's aunt, Mrs. Grace Bornemeier. While in Nebraska Mr. and Mrs. Bornemeier and their children also visited in Omaha and Ashland.

When Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gadd entertained at a family dinner at the University Club on Thursday evening, the party paid courtesy to Mr. Gadd's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ford Robinson and their two children, James and Peggy, of Swarthmore, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and their son and daughter arrived several days ago for a visit with Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. J. H. Gadd; her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Ebner, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gadd.

SERVICE CIRCLES

BY SYBIL WEBBER
The summer slump has hit Air Base Heights full force—and the social whirl has come to a screeching halt! Everyone is off on leave (well, maybe not everyone), and if they're not on leave—they're on alert. And if they're not on alert, they're sure not entertaining. Ah, but just you wait . . . my day will come. When the first whisperings of autumn are in the air, wonderful and exciting parties will be forthcoming!

... in the meantime we'll give you the scoop on what we do know. For example, about one of the numerous functions honoring Brig. General Perry M. Hoisington, 818th Air Division Commander, prior to his departure last week-end for his new assignment at Westover Field, Mass. The particular affair we're speaking of is the dinner party July 23, at the officers club when the squadron commanders and staff officers and their wives bid their official farewells.

... Kitty Tyson hosted a morning coffee July 25, at her quarters in Air Base Heights for wives of the 98th Field Maintenance Squadron. The affair was given to introduce Thelma Grending, wife of Lt. Colonel Carl Grending, who succeeds Lt. Colonel Tyson as commander of the squadron. The gals turned the tables on Kitty, however, and presented her with a farewell gift for the occasion. The Tysons are scheduled to leave soon for SAC Headquarters.

... mustn't overlook the younger set, because we heard about a birthday celebration among their group. The party was given July 25, and the affair marked the fifth birthday of little Miss Kay Post, daughter of S.Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Post. A trip to Pioneer Park to see the animals was on the agenda, followed by a party in the park, with the usual ice cream and all important birthday cake, plus all the trimmings. The youthful guest list included Jean Walters, Janice, Nancy and Barbara Forcum; Pat and Dick Placker; Doug Gayle and Ronnie Dodge; Royce Von Mosch, David Pomroy; Billy Gilland, Jim Mapstead and Gregory Thompson.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

FIENE HEIGHTS

We'll begin by telling you that Miss Sharon Witt celebrated her 17th birthday on Friday, July 25, and in honor of the occasion her mother, Mrs. Fred T. Witt was hostess at a dinner party. Invited to the gala event were Sherry and Shirley Keszler, Karen Thurston, Sandy Gibson, Susie Sidell, Becky Stuhler, Karen Rogers, Janet Hergenrader, Karen Wilhelm, Lona Lee Bell, Audrey Grisinger, Janet Miller, Linda Hellerich, Patty Miller, Kathy Kimmel, Judy Swindle, Ann Kelly, Janice Marler and Judy Walker.

Mention of the Witt family reminds us that Mr. and Mrs. Witt and their three children, Sharon, George and Fred, Jr., took off for Minnesota this week to enjoy a two-week fishing trip.

Heard by way of the grapevine that Fiene Heights residents will welcome newcomers this week end. Moving on Saturday from 3842 Garfield St., will be Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Seaberg and their son, Mike, who will settle in their new suburb home on Woods Blvd.

SOUTH HILLS

Motoring to Friend today will be Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Freeman who will be weekend guests of Mr. Freeman's

Lenox Club

Mrs. May Ludwig, Mrs. H. Puckett, Mrs. C. J. McKee and Mrs. C. J. Hauptman were guests of the Lenox Club which met on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. G. E. McKee.

Following a short business meeting the ladies presented a gift and corsage to Mrs. J. J. Moser, who has been the publicity chairman of the organization during the past 25 years.

mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Josie Freeman and Mrs. Bernard Milton and her daughter, Denise.

Recent guests in South Hill were Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Mills and their four children, Julie, Jane, Peggy and Dick, who drove from Ft. Dodge, Ia., to visit Mr. Mill's brother and sister-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Eldon Mills and their son, Hod.

And news of the Mills family brings to mind the barbecue supper that will be an event of this evening at their home. Their guests will be Maj. and Mrs. Howard Rose and their children, Karen and Kenneth.

Turning now to the younger generation we learn that Miss Pam Cloud and Miss Barbara Churchill, both of Fairbury, arrived by train last Tuesday to spend four days at the home of Pam's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cossel and their children, Randy and Sandra. Incidentally, we also know that the Cossel twosome returned to Fairbury with Pam and Barb to be guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cloud, Mr. and Mrs. Cossel will motor to Fairbury this week end to accompany the youngsters back to the suburb.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

As a "welcome" courtesy to Mrs. Erwin Wichter, Mrs. Eugene Blatchley was hostess at an informal coffee that was held at her home last Wednesday. Included among the guests were Mrs. Ray Sugg, Mrs. Charles Mook, Mrs. Roger Von Gillern and Mrs. V. E. Lock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wichter and their five-year-old daughter, Maryann, moved into the suburb the first of July from their former Lincoln home at 3930 Louis Ave.

It is today—so we heard—that Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beers will be leaving for a ten-day vacation. The travelers will drive first to Dodge City, Kan., where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Bud Kelly; and from there will go on to Denver, Colo., and the Black Hills, S.D., for a sight-seeing trip.

FAREWELL COURTESY

In farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Broening and their children, James, Linda and Margie, who leave Lincoln soon to reside in Phoenix, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Lee Adams entertained at a picnic supper on Tuesday evening at their home. Fifty-two neighbors attended the affair.

Plan Contest

To encourage teen-age girls to learn home sewing, the national Wool Bureau will sponsor again this summer its annual "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest. Mrs. Cletus Hanlon, Morrill, Nebraska state contest director, has announced that girls between the ages of 14 and 22 may enter the contest with a suit, coat, dress or ensemble.

The contest is endorsed by the National Education Association, and co-sponsored in Nebraska by the North Platte Valley Lamb Feeders Association, and offers many prizes from scholarships, sewing machines and trips to Europe for top winners.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, punctuation, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Third-Base Pileup...Starts Free-For-All Between Lincoln, Albuquerque

PRITCHARD POWDERS DUKE DEFENDER

Chiefs' Buddy Pritchard (left picture, No. 1) sails into 3rd, knocking down Duke 3rd baseman Marty Rosell. The ump's ruled that Rosell obstructed Pritchard's try for home after the play, and in the dispute players from both benches poured onto the field and joined in the melee. Chiefs' 9th-Inning Rally Turns Back Dukes 5-4

Fireworks In 8th Feature WL Tilt

... Labor Night Set Tonight

By Don Bryant

Lincoln's Chiefs won an 8th-inning free-for-all at Sherman Field Thursday night and then capped the evening with a 5-4 victory over the Albuquerque Dukes in a rag-tag 9th inning.

Buddy Pritchard figured in both events as the Chiefs made it 3-in-a-row over Jimmy Brown's Dukes.

Tonight the Dukes and the Chiefs wind up the series, starting at 8 p.m. It will be Organized Labor Night, with fun, prizes and gifts. Bennie Malcolm (4-4) will pitch for the Chiefs against Albuquerque's Tom Gibson (2-5).

Hard luck guy Thursday night was Lincoln pitcher Ronnie Sheetz, who came within a whisker of posting his first victory of the year.

During the first 7 innings, Sheetz and the Chiefs were coasting along with a 2-0 lead and the Dukes had managed only 3 scattered hits.

The 815 fans got an inkling of things to come in the 8th when the Dukes got their first tally, spoiling Sheetz' shutout bid. Tony Washington misjudged a fly ball in center and it went for a triple before Don Moitoza tripled to make it 2-1.

That was nothing compared to the high jinks in the Lincoln 8th and the final frame.

Pritchard got the fireworks underway in the 8th by doubling with one out. The Chiefs' second baseman then stole third and on the play Duke pitcher Bill Cooke threw wildly past third baseman Marty Rosell, who promptly put an arm lock on Pritchard.

Buddy broke loose and could have scored, but he chose to tear into Rosell. Both benches poured into the melee—each side getting in some good licks—before order was restored.

Then the umpires ruled Rosell was guilty of obstruction and waved Pritchard.

Fairbury, (P) — David City handed defending state semi-pro champion Elkhorn a 10-2 defeat in the state tourney Thursday night. It was the 1st defeat for Elkhorn in the double elimination tourney. David City has not been beaten.

Offutt Air Base and Beatrice will play Friday night with the loser eliminated, and David City will meet Fairbury in the 2nd game.

Braves Cement NL Margin On 4-1 Win

Pizarro's 4-Hitter Dumps L.A.

Milwaukee (P) — The Milwaukee Braves rallied for 3 runs in the 8th inning Thursday to beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1 and increase their National League lead to a full game.

The defending champion Braves moved ahead when the 2nd place San Francisco Giants were defeated 10-9 by the Cincinnati Redlegs at night. Only a single percentage point separated the Giants and Braves when the day's action opened.

Young Juan Pizarro won his 2nd straight decision since being called up from the minors as he put the Dodgers down with 4 hits and without an earned run. He beat Chicago 4-1 last Friday.

It was the 2nd straight triumph, too, for a lefthander against the once-feared right-handed Los Angeles batting order. Warren Spahn beat them Wednesday night 4-3. Thursday's victory gave Milwaukee 2 of the 3 games in the current series.

Redlegs' Rally Downs Giants, 10-9

Cincinnati (P) — The Cincinnati Redlegs rallied for 6 runs in the last 2 innings Thursday night and defeated the San Francisco Giants, 10-9, as pinch hitter Pete Whisenant singled home the winning run with 1 out and the bases loaded in the last of the 9th.

The defeat dropped the Giants a full game behind Milwaukee's National League leaders and came as the Redlegs wiped out a 9-4 San Francisco lead.

The winning run came off Ruben Gomez, the 4th Giant pitcher and the winning hurler was Joe Nuxhall, the 6th Redleg hurler.

The free swinging game saw Leon Wagner, Giant rookie get 2 home runs and Willie Kirkland 1 for the Giants while Walt Dropo got a 2-run homer for the Redlegs in the 8th when they scored 5 times to tie the score.

In the game-winning 9th singles by Johnny Temple and Dee Fondy and an intentional walk to Frank Robinson loaded the bases and set the

CHIEFS' WIVES SEEK 2ND WIN SATURDAY

A roster of 10 players for the Wives team that will oppose the Lincoln Chiefs in Saturday's special preliminary game was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Nita Basgall.

"We only need 9 players but have 10 just in case the umpires should chase one of the regulars," the attractive brunette skipper said. No positions were listed for the players. "Actually we are all managers and intend to keep it that way," Mrs. Basgall added.

The Wives team includes names of 5 Lincoln players besides Mrs. Basgall. They are: Helen Brennan, Marlene Malcolm, Jonnie Nelson, Kathy Pritchard and Joyce Sheetz. Mrs. Sheetz is the lone "vet" from the 1957 wives team that soundly whipped last season's pennant winning Lincoln team in the 1st of the Wives games.

Also on the roster are Glor-

Women's AAU Swimming Opens

Topeka, Kan. (P) — Aquatic stars from all over the country, some of whom don't look old enough to get to the deep end of the pool unescorted, are ready for the National A.A.U. Senior Women's outdoor swimming and diving championships opening today.

A totl of 168 individual entrants, swimming under the banner of 33 clubs or unattached, were in the field, including several members of the 1956 U.S. Olympic team.

All but 2 girls who won national championships in last year's record shattering outdoor meet are back to defend their titles.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant
Sports Editor, The Star

The mailman delivered a couple of interesting letters today, so I'll pass them on:

First to take the floor is C. W. Schwartz of Lincoln, who suggests attendance at Sherman Field would pick up if some special nights were held.

He is plugging for a "Dick Wagner Night" whereby a jam-packed park would serve as "the only gift." Other ideas are "Good Neighbor" (bring your neighbor), "Family," "No Television" and "See You At Sherman Field."

Then Mr. Schwartz gets down to the brass tack portion of his pitch:

"It's silly for a town of 128,000 to fluff off a ball team just because it has had some bad luck, injuries and games lost by 1 point. I think their errors stink, too, but that's the manager's job to thrash out. They (the Chiefs) can still snap out of it—at least have some good games and a good homestead showing—to keep baseball here next year. . . . Let's get everybody talking baseball and Sherman Field for a couple of weeks yet before the State Fair and football takes over. . . ."

Comment: The Chiefs could use a few more diehards like Mr. Schwartz. And it wouldn't hurt a bit if the Weatherman would become a baseball addict. As for a "Dick Wagner Night," plans are underway for the Chiefs' general manager to officially receive the Sporting News Manager of the Year award at Sherman Field in the near future. That would be an ideal time for fans to fill up the park as a tribute to the work Dick has done here.

Strolling into the spotlight now is none other than the minor league Bambino, Dick Stuart, who currently is causing a few eyebrows to lift in the National League.

Incidentally, here is a photograph of the only return address Sir Richard had on the letter:

*Dick Stuart
c/o Major Leagues!*

Here's what Dick says:

"Hi Slugger, how's things in my old stomping grounds? We just beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 3 straight games. I had 5 for 12 and 4 RBIs for the series. . . . by far the best series I've had since joining the club. I had 4 for 5, including 2 triples the 1st game (imagine me hitting 2 triples in 1 game) and yesterday I hit my 5th home run (and not my last) . . . a 2-run homer as we won 5-3.

"An ex-Lincoln Chief, (George) Red Witt, got the win. Say, wouldn't it be funny if you were watching the World Series in October and there was 'Old Stu' on 1st. Could happen. This National League is that close. . . ."

Comment: It would be funny, "Old Stu," but I won't bet against it. Last year, Dick arrived in Lincoln after dropping from Hollywood and Atlanta and told Larry Shepard: "Relax, Larry! 'Big Stu' is back and we'll win the pennant." The Chiefs had to wait until the last day, but the prophecy came true. On the subject, of attitude, those of us who believe he has made some concessions in the playing department won't argue that he's a changed boy off the field.

Dig that return address!

Giants Won't Open In New Stadium

San Francisco (P) — The San Francisco Giants probably will open their 1959 season in tiny Seals Stadium instead of a new 45,000-seat park being built for them.

Contractor Charles L. Harney said he has all but abandoned any hope of completing the new layout, 5 miles from downtown San Francisco by April 15, 1959, opening day in the majors.

"I'd say July 15 looks about right," he said.

Pitching coach Mel Harder of the Cleveland Indians had a 223-186 record for 20 seasons with the same team.

Seals Stadium, present home of the Giants, seats less than 23,000.

Disputed Tiger Hit Gets Win

Detroit (P) — Frank Lary edged rookie Bill Monbouquette in a tense pitching duel Thursday and the Detroit Tigers defeated Boston 3-2 on Frank Bolling's disputed double in the 8th inning.

Bolling's smash down the third base line scored Billy Martin from third base and brought on a loud protest from Red Sox players and manager Mike Higgins. They claimed the ball was foul but umpire John Flaherty ruled otherwise.

American Women Can Win 7 Rome Track Events—Richards

New York (AP) — American women can win 7 track events in the 1960 Olympics at Rome, the Rev. Bob Richards says.

The famed pole vaulter returned Thursday from Moscow, where he was an observer during the United States-Soviet dual meet. Although he says Russian women athletes outnumber our women athletes 10,000 to 1, he believes this country has the motivation to excel.

"I believe in our free state," he said, "and that individual initiative is better than regimentation. I think our women will win the 100 meters, 200 meters, broad jump, the relay, the javelin, the shotput and the discus in Rome."

"That will leave the others only the 800 meters, if they include that event, the hurdles and the high jump."

Richards declared the United States should have won the Moscow meet, instead of losing by 2 points in the total combining both men's and women's events.

Some of our athletes did not perform up to their capabilities, he said, and although he had no objection to the Soviet lumping the points in the 2 divisions, the scoring in some events was loaded in favor of the Russians.

"For instance, he explained, "in the 4 relays, with only 2 teams competing, the 2nd team was awarded 3 points instead of zero. We won all 4, scoring 20 points, but gained only 8 points, although the Russians could have walked over the course. They also had a half-mile race for women. Who ever heard of a women's 880?"

"I think we will be able to beat them in any sports activity if our training program is stepped up, although in certain events, such as gymnastics, it may take years."

NEIL... to quarterfinals

Unterseher Advances In Net Tourney

Kalamazoo, Mich. — Lincoln's Neil Unterseher will meet Marty Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill. today in the quarterfinals of junior singles in the national junior and boys tennis championship.

Neither the 18-year-old Nebraska nor the Illinois entry were seeded in the tournament.

In a round of 32 matches twice halted by rain Unterseher Thursday trimmed Houston's Jack Kamrath 6-1, 6-4. It was his 2nd straight victory of the tournament.

Riessen scored a major upset when he defeated 4th seeded Jimmy Shaffer of St. Petersburg, Fla., a finalist in the Western Juniors at Champaign, Ill., last week. Thursday, Riessen eliminated 11th ranked Ramsey Earnhart of Ventura, Calif.

In 1st round junior doubles, Unterseher and Roger Jack, Oklahoma City, won over Floridians Neal Marcus and Fritz Schunk 11-9, 1-6, 6-1.

Sacramento Bids Are Announced

Apparent low bids totaling $124,619.05 were announced Thursday by the State Game Commission for construction at the Sacramento Wildlife Management area in Phelps County.

Eugene Baker, chief of engineering and operation, said the low bids were about 2% above the estimate.

Contracts will be awarded next week, he said, and work will start immediately.

On Aug. 8, the commission will open bids for work at the Burchard Wildlife Management Area 3 miles northeast of Burchard in Pawnee County.

Work to be done there includes a 145,000 yard dam, concrete drop outlet and spillway.

Apparent low bidders for the Sacramento work were: Steel Administration Building 32 by 100 feet, Kinsley Lumber Co., Holdrege, $28,715.50.

Dikes, Western Brothers, Holdrege, $87,935.50.

Grading, Western Brothers, Holdrege, $2,104.60.

Six irrigation and one service well, Central Irrigation Co., Henderson, $13,093.45.

Ben's Loses Doubleheader

Ben's dropped a pair of games Thursday night as it completed its 2nd half of the Elks League season. Gerry's won the opening game of the twinned with a 5-4 win. Bonebright took the nightcap 14-1.

Gerry's win boosted the team into 2nd place in the final 2nd half standings.

Bill Lindholm was the losing pitcher in both games for Ben's.

In the parlor, my great-grandfather kept a glass and rosewood what-not. It had Indian arrowheads and gold-framed daguerreotypes. There was a conch shell I remember — you held it to your ear and heard the sea roaring. If you asked him politely, he would take out a lump of water-worn gold and let you hold it. "Worth mighty close to $20," he said. A piece of richness that left you gasping. He dug it himself in California. Not far from here.

If it is scant in accommodations, it is rich in history and quiet, scenic beauty. The old brick Wells Fargo offices stand in old mining camps with empty windows and rusting iron doors. The names are enough to give you the gold fever — "contagious

Three out-of-state agriculture officials were "mighty impressed with what they saw" during a tour of Nebraska's corn, wheat and cattle country, state Agriculture Director Ed Hoyt, who conducted the tour, commented on his return to Lincoln. The 3 visitors included Agriculture Secretary Benson's assistant, Charles Fyfe; North Carolina Director of Agriculture L. Y. Ballentine and Virginia Agriculture Director Parke Brinkley.

The tour followed a meeting of the executive committee of the National Assn. of State Agriculture Directors in Hermosa, S.D. Hoyt said he took the men to Holdrege, Minden, where they saw glass lined silos; McCook, Trenton Dam, the Republican Valley, Grant, Ogallala, Lake McConaughy, Arthur, Hyannis, Alliance and Chadron.

$25,125 In Polio Emergency Funds Given 2 Counties

A total of $25,125 in March of Dimes emergency advance funds have just been received by Douglas and Sarpy County chapters of the National Polio Foundation, according to Clinton Belknap of Lincoln, eastern Nebraska representative for the organization. A total of $29,865 in such advances has thus far been sent to Nebraska this year to help county chapters where local treasuries have been depleted in providing needed aid to polio patients carried over from prior years, Belknap said. The chapters in distress include counties from the extreme west portion of the Panhandle to the east edge of the state and together with amounts thus far received this year are: Sioux, $2,100; Valley, $500; Nemaha, $2,140; Sarpy, $4,575; and Douglas, $20,550.

Preventive Meeting Date Asked By U.S.

... To Forestall Surprise Attacks

Washington (AP)—The United States Thursday proposed the first week of October for the start of East-West technical talks on what would be needed to prevent surprise attacks in this nuclear missile age.

In a note to Moscow, this country suggested the talks take place in Geneva, where scientists representing the East and West already are discussing the ways of policing a possible future ban on nuclear tests.

Experts for the proposed October talks on preventing surprise attacks would be designated by the United States and Russia, and possibly by certain other states.

Their assignment, the U.S. note said, would be "a study of the technical aspects of safeguards against the possibility of surprise attack." The note said they would "concentrate on the means and objects of control and on the results which could be secured from these safeguards."

This was taken to mean that the experts would examine such specific questions as setting up aerial and ground inspection teams which would be on the lookout for any big scale military buildups.

GEN. FUAD SHEHAB

Lebanon Chooses Shehab

Rebels' Stand
Still Same

Beirut (AP)—Gen. Fuad Shehab won Lebanon's presidency as the 6-to-1 choice of Parliament Thursday. The Army commander's victory as a compromise candidate settled one immediate crisis of the 83-day-old rebellion. But it seemed to breed others even as the Lebanese celebrated with jubilant gunshots.

A breakup threatened the pro-Western cabinet of Premier Sami Solh, who has long been a critic of Shehab. That could complicate the tenure and assignment of 10,000 U.S. troops in Lebanon and the U.S. 6th Fleet offshore.

And rebel leader Saeb Salam, although pleased by the election of Shehab, sent word to the Associated Press from his barricaded headquarters that basically nothing is changed: "We will continue to fight until our demands are met."

Chief of these demands is quick withdrawal of American forces and immediate resignation of President Camille Chamoun. Chamoun announced he has no intention of resigning. He said he intends to serve until his term expires Sept. 23. He gave this word to newsmen upon emerging from a conference with Shehab. And the general said he will not resign from the Army until Sept. 24, meaning he does not intend to assume the presidency until then.

Fred Trumble, Oldest Sarpy Co. Resident, Dies

Papillon, Neb. — Fred Trumble, Sarpy County's oldest resident, died in an Omaha hospital following an operation.

He celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary Jan. 3.

Born on a farm near Papillon, he retired from Mr. Trumble farming a half century ago. He was an executive of the South Omaha Packers National Bank many years.

Mr. Trumble drove his car until the age of 86 when the "traffic got too bad."

He is survived by 2 daughters, Mrs. Edith Lanktree of Omaha and Mrs. Irene Lamb of Papillon; 4 grandchildren; 6 great grandchildren and one great great grandchild.

—INDIANAPOLIS—

Drug Firm Executive Is Slain

Divorcee Is Found
Unconscious In Car

Indianapolis (AP)—A 40-year-old divorcee wanted for questioning in the fatal shooting of a pharmaceutical executive was found unconscious in an automobile Thursday night.

A preliminary charge of murder was filed against the woman, Mrs. Connie Nichols, after officers found a small pistol similar to the one that killed Forrest Teel, 54-year-old Eli Lilly & Co. executive, in her purse.

Mrs. Nicholas was found unconscious in her car along a lovers' lane near a northeastern Indianapolis street. Officers said she apparently had tried to commit suicide by taking an overdose of sleeping pills. She was taken to General Hospital in critical condition.

Teel, who died after his car backed in wild circles out of a parking lot early Thursday, was in charge of all marketing of drugs made by Lilly—a business of 200 million dollars a year.

Fruit Juice
Detective Phil Sanders said Mrs. Nicholas had apparently tried to commit suicide by drinking some fruit juice found in a vacuum bottle in the car. He said several partly dissolved capsules were found in the juice.

Sanders said an order to pick up Mrs. Nicholas was issued after an anonymous caller tipped police that she had a small gun similar to the one which killed Teel.

Police said Mrs. Nicholas had been a personal friend of Teel for several years. She formerly worked for the Lilly company.

Mrs. Nicholas, an attractive brown-haired member of a physical culture club, had been divorced 2 months ago. Teel was married and the father of a son.

Sanders said detectives found 3 letters in her apartment, one of them a love letter addressed to Teel and another threatening suicide.

Sanders quoted one note as telling Teel she didn't want to be a burden to him. Another asked that her body be cremated "in a blue negligee and my ashes scattered from an airplane over an airport," he added.

State DeMolay Conclave Opens Here On Friday

The Nebraska state DeMolay conclave will open in Lincoln Friday for a 3-day session.

Scheduled for Saturday are election of officers, a business meeting and banquet. Banquet speaker will be Lancaster County Judge Herbert A. Ronin.

The meeting will end Sunday with installation of new state officers.

Kurt Brown, Nebraska City, is the state master counselor. Other officers include William H. Webster Jr., Hastings, state senior counselor; Larry Reger, Lincoln, state junior counselor and Jerry Crisp, Lincoln, state scribe-treasurer.

Weaver Predicts Hells Canyon May Be Political Issue Here

Washington (AP)—Legislation to authorize a public power dam in Hells Canyon is dead but Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb.) says it may become a political issue in Nebraska this year.

A bill to authorize a federal dam in the Hells Canyon reach of the Snake River bordering Idaho and Oregon is buried in the House Interior Committee, where it will die with the present Congress. The project would flood the sites of 3 private power dams licensed by the Federal Power Commission.

Weaver put into the Congressional record a statement saying "a few political opportunists in Nebraska want to inject the controversial Hells Canyon issue into the coming election campaign."

"This is good," he said, "but Nebraskans are entitled to nothing less than the whole story and all of the facts about Hells Canyon which for the fifth time Congress has refused to authorize."

Weaver reviewed arguments for and against the federal dam proposal.

Then he quoted from a letter he said Secretary of the Interior Seaton had written to Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.), who has been a leading congressional opponent of the Hells Canyon bill.

The proposed federal dam would hike reclamation project appropriations 60% in the next 6 years, the letter said, according to Weaver, and added:

"Ten years ago, and from time to time since then, the Congress had a choice between federal construction of the Hells Canyon dam and the alternative of permitting the Federal Power Commission to license non-federal construction."

"During this 10-year period the theoretical benefits dramatized by proponents of the high dam have been repeatedly considered by the Congress. The Congress did not heed their pleadings and refused authorization for federal construction."

"Today we are not faced with a theory. As a practical matter it would be impossible to justify to the taxpayers of the nation, over-burdened as they are, the extravagant waste of authorization of federal construction at this time."

Farm Prices Drop Slightly

Washington (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported that farm product prices dropped four-tenths of 1% between mid-June and mid-July.

This was the second consecutive month of decline, but the prices still were 3% above a year earlier.

The decline reflected lower prices for apples, peaches, cantaloupes, watermelons and wheat as the new crop moved to market in volume.

Prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in production and in family living were the same in mid-July as in mid-June. They, too, were 3% higher than a year earlier.

Beryl Feather Soon To Take Missionary Post

Beryl Feather of 2210 N. 64th, Lincoln, will be one of 46 young men and women leaving the United States this fall to begin 3 years of overseas mission service for the Methodist Church.

Miss Feather, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Feather, will go to Southern Rhodesia, Africa, to do educational work.

She will serve under the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Board of Missions.

Born in Lincoln, Miss Feather attended high school in York, and received a bachelor of arts degree from Wesleyan University last spring. For one year each, she studied at Gordon College, Rawalpindi, Pakistan, and at the American University of Beirut, Lebanon.

GRAIN PRICES

GIVEN A LIFT

Chicago (AP)—A moderate

buying flurry in the final few minutes before the close sent nearly all grain futures contracts well over to the plus side Thursday on the board of trade.

Until that time only corn and soybeans had shown any firmness and they moved ahead with the increasing demand. Heavy overnight rain in much of the major producing areas had sent them off to slightly higher prices.

Capitol's 'Face' Lifted

Nebraska's State Capitol is getting its "face lifted," so to speak, and workmen are painting the bronze doors black, caulking steps, cleaning the stone under first floor windows to erase rain stains, as well as scrubbing interior mosaics in the building's famous central hall.

Gov. Victor Anderson said the "housework" around the Capitol was being undertaken to "prevent deterioration of this beautiful building."

Building Superintendent Lowell Lindquist explained that the antique bronze finish of the doors at the building's entrances was badly chipped "and there is no way known to duplicate the antique finish of the doors so they're being painted."

The "antiquing" is a "sort of pickling process" that is taken when the doors are cast, he said, and there is no way to do this again.

Gov. Anderson said the black color was chosen after they had tried to find a color to match the "antique finish" but none could be found.

The governor said the flat black paint also will match the window trim over the building, and the big main doors at the north entrance.

Prince In Jail

Cairo (AP)—The Egyptian press published photos showing Turkish Prince Mohamed in a Baghdad prison. He was convicted in absentia in a Cairo court last year of conspiring to overthrow President Nasser and sentenced to 15 years.

The papers did not say on what charges Namuk was arrested in Iraq but said he was in Baghdad when the revolt of July 14 overthrew King Faisal. Faisal was killed.
